PETITION FOR TEMPORARY INJUNCTION UNDER SECTION 10(j)
OF THE NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS ACT

To the Honorable, the Judges of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York:

Comes James G. Paulsen, the Regional Director of Region 29 of the National Labor Relations Board, herein called the Board, and petitions this Court for and on behalf of the Board, pursuant to Section 10(j) of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended, [61 Stat. 149; 73 Stat. 544; 29 U.S.C. Sec. 160 (j)], herein called the Act, for injunctive relief pending the final disposition of the matters involved herein before the Board on charges alleging, inter alia, that PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc., herein called Respondent, has engaged in, and is engaging in, acts and conduct in violation of Sections
8(a)(1) and (5) of the Act. In support thereof, Petitioner respectfully shows as follows:

I. Petitioner is the Regional Director of Region 29 of the Board, an agency of the United States Government, and files this petition for and on behalf of the Board.

II. Jurisdiction of this Court is invoked pursuant to Section 10(j) of the Act. (29 U.S.C. 160(j)).

III. On June 8, 2016, Local 32BJ, Service Employees International Union, herein called the Union, filed an unfair labor practice charge in Case No. 29-CA-177992. The charge alleges that Respondent refused to recognize and bargain with the Union, failed to provide information to the Union that is necessary for and relevant to the Union's performance of its duties as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of Respondent's employees, and required as a condition of employment that Respondent's employees sign an arbitration agreement in which employees surrender their rights under Section 7 of the Act to engage in concerted activity to resolve statutory employment claims.

On July 26, 2016, Petitioner issued a Complaint and Notice of Hearing in Case No. 29-CA-177992, alleging violations of 8(a)(1) and (5) of the Act. The trial on these matters before an Administrative Law Judge is scheduled for October 18, 2016.

Copies of the aforementioned charge and the Complaint and Notice of Hearing are attached hereto as Exhibit A and Exhibit B, respectively.

IV. There is reasonable cause to believe that the allegations set forth in the Complaint and Notice of Hearing in Case No. 29-CA-177992 are true and that Respondent is engaging in unfair labor practices affecting commerce within the meaning of Sections 8(a)(1) and (5) and Sections 2(6) and 2(7) of the Act as alleged therein.

In support of the request for injunctive relief herein, Petitioner will show as follows:

1. (a) At all material times, Respondent has been a domestic corporation with its principal office and place of business located at 7135 Charlotte Pike, Suite 100, Nashville, Tennessee, and at places of business located at airports nation-wide, including a place of business located at John F. Kennedy International Airport (“JFK Airport”) in Queens, New York, and has been engaged in the business of providing airport terminal services, including baggage handling, skycap services, checkpoint services and wheelchair assistance, to JetBlue Airways Corp. at JFK Airport.

(b) Based on a projection of its operations since about May 9, 2016, at which time Respondent commenced its operations at JFK Airport, Respondent will annually provide services valued in excess of $50,000 for JetBlue Airways Corp., an enterprise which is directly engaged in interstate commerce.

(c) At all material times, Respondent has been an employer engaged in commerce within the meaning of Section 2(2), (6), and (7) of the Act.

2. At all material times, the Union has been a labor organization within the meaning of Section 2(5) of the Act.

3. At all material times, William R. Stejskal III has been a Senior Vice President of Respondent and an agent of Respondent within the meaning of Section 2(13) of the Act.

4. At all material times, until about May 9, 2016, Air Serv Corporation (“Air Serv”) was engaged in the business of providing terminal services, including baggage handling, skycap services and checkpoint services, to Jet Blue Airways Corp. at JFK Airport.

5. (a) The following employees of Air Serv constitute a unit ("Air Serv Unit") appropriate for the purposes of collective bargaining within the meaning of Section 9(b) of the Act:

All full-time and regular part-time employees, excluding security officers, office clericals, supervisors, managers and confidential employees employed by Air Serv at Newark Liberty, John F. Kennedy International and LaGuardia Airports.

(b) At all material times from about March 26, 2015, until about May 9, 2016, the Union was recognized by Air Serv as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Air Serv Unit. Such recognition was embodied in a recognition agreement, signed by the Union and Air Serv on or about March 26, 2015.

(c) At all material times from about March 26, 2015, until about May 9, 2016, based on Section 9(a) of the Act, the Union was the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Air Serv Unit.

6. (a) About May 9, 2016, Respondent entered into a contract with JetBlue Airways Corp. and began providing the terminal services previously performed by Air Serv at JFK Airport, described above in paragraph 5, as well as wheelchair assistance services.

(b) Since about May 9, 2016, Respondent has continued to operate the portion of Air Serv's business at JFK Airport in basically unchanged form.

(c) Since about May 9, 2016, Respondent has employed, as a majority of its employees at JFK Airport, individuals who were previously employees of Air Serv.

(d) Based on its operations described above in subparagraphs 6(a) through (c), Respondent has continued the employing entity and is a successor to Air Serv.

7. The following employees of Respondent ("the Unit") constitute a unit appropriate for the purposes of collective-bargaining within the meaning of Section 9(b) of the Act:

All full-time and regular part-time employees employed by Respondent at JFK Airport, excluding confidential employees, office clericals, guards and supervisors, as defined by the Act.

8. At all material times, since about May 9, 2016, based on Section 9(a) of the Act, the Union has been the designated exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

9. By letter dated May 23, 2016, the Union requested that Respondent recognize the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit employees and that Respondent bargain collectively with the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

10. By letter dated May 23, 2016, the Union requested that Respondent furnish the Union with the following information:

- (a) A roster of all bargaining unit employees, including their names, addresses, telephone numbers, e-mail addresses, wages, shifts, classifications and start dates;
- (b) A copy of any employee handbook applicable to any bargaining unit employee;
- (c) A copy of the summary plan description for any health insurance or other employee benefit plan applicable to any bargaining unit employee.

11. The information requested by the Union, as described above in paragraph 10, is necessary for, and relevant to, the Union's performance of its duties as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

13. (a) By letter dated May 25, 2016, from Senior Vice President William R. Stejskal III to the Union, Respondent failed and refused to recognize and bargain with the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

(b) Since about May 25, 2016, Respondent has failed and refused to recognize and bargain with the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

14. (a) By letter dated May 25, 2016, from Senior Vice President William R. Stejskal III to the Union, Respondent failed and refused to furnish the Union with the information requested by it as described above in paragraph 12.

(b) Since about May 25, 2016, Respondent has failed and refused to furnish the Union with the information it requested as described above in paragraph 10.

15. By the conduct described above in paragraphs 13 and 14, Respondent has been failing and refusing to bargain collectively and in good faith with the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of its employees in violation of Section 8(a)(1) and (5) of the Act.

16. Respondent's unfair labor practices, described above, affect commerce within the meaning of Section 2(6) and (7) of the Act.

VI. Upon information and belief, unless the aforesaid flagrant unfair labor practices are immediately enjoined, a serious flouting of the Act will continue, with the result that enforcement of important provisions of the Act and of public policy will be thwarted before Respondent can be placed under legal restraint through the regular procedure of a Board Order. Unless the injunctive relief is granted, it may be fairly anticipated that Respondent will continue its unlawful conduct during the proceedings before the Board, with the result that during this period, Respondent's employees' rights under Section 7 of the Act to form, join or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to refrain from any and all such activities, will be seriously interfered with, and restrained and coerced. It may further be fairly anticipated that by the time a Board Order can be obtained against Respondent, it will not be possible to restore the pre-unfair labor practice status quo.

VII. Upon information and belief, in order to avoid the serious results referred to above, it is essential, just and proper, and appropriate for the purposes of effectuating the policies of the Act and avoiding substantial irreparable and immediate injury to such policies and to the employees of Respondent, and in accordance with the purposes of Section 10(j) of the Act, that Respondent be enjoined and restrained pending the final disposition of the matters herein before the Board, as herein prayed.

VIII. No previous application has been made for the relief requested herein.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays:

That the Court issue an Order directing Respondent to appear before this Court, at a time and place fixed by the Court, and to show cause, if any there be, why a temporary injunction should not issue enjoining and restraining Respondent, its officers, agents, representatives, servants, employees, attorneys, successors, and assigns, and all persons acting in concert or participation with them, pending the final disposition of the matters involved herein pending before the Board, as follows:

1. Cease and desist from:

- (a) Refusing to recognize Local 32BJ, Service Employees International Union (“the Union”) as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of employees in the following bargaining unit: all full-time and regular part-time employees employed by Respondent at JFK Airport, excluding confidential employees, office clericals, guards and supervisors, as defined by the National Labor Relations Act;
- (b) Refusing to meet and bargain with the Union as the exclusive representative of the bargaining unit employees;
- (c) Refusing to provide the Union with information that the Union requests that is relevant and necessary to the Union’s role as the bargaining unit employees’ exclusive collective-bargaining representative;
- (d) In any like or related manner interfering with, restraining, or coercing employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed them by Section 7 of the Act.

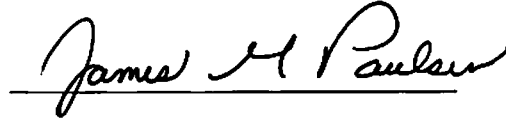

2. Further, Respondent, its officers, agents and representatives shall:

- a) Recognize the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of Respondent’s bargaining unit employees;

- b) Upon request, bargain in good faith with the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of Respondent's bargaining unit employees;
- c) Within seven (7) days from the date of the District Court's Order, provide the Union with the information it requested on May 23, 2016, including a roster of all bargaining unit employees, applicable employee handbook(s), and information pertaining to health insurance or other employee benefit plans;
- d) Within seven (7) days from the date of the District Court's Order, post copies of the District Court's opinion and order in this matter at all locations where Respondent's notices to employees are customarily posted; maintain such notices free from all obstructions or defacements pending the Board's administrative proceeding; and grant to agents of the Board reasonable access to Respondent's facility to monitor compliance with this posting requirement;
- e) Within twenty (20) days of the issuance of this Order, file with the District Court and serve a copy upon the Regional Director of Region 29 of the Board, a sworn affidavit from a responsible official which describes with specificity how Respondent has complied with the terms of this decree, including the exact locations where Respondent has posted the materials required under this Order.

f) That the Court grant such further other relief as may be just and proper

Case 29-CA-177992

SERVICE EMPLOYEES INTERNATIONAL UNION, LOCAL 32BJ

COMPLAINT AND NOTICE OF HEARING

This Complaint and Notice of Hearing is based on a charge filed by Service Employees International Union, Local 32BJ (“Charging Party”). It is issued pursuant to Section 10(b) of the National Labor Relations Act (the Act), 29 U.S.C. § 151 et seq., and Section 102.15 of the Rules and Regulations of the National Labor Relations Board (the Board) and alleges that PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc. (“Respondent”) has violated the Act as described below.

1. The charge in this proceeding was filed by the Charging Party on June 8, 2016, and a copy was served on Respondent by U.S. mail on June 10, 2016.
2. (a) At all material times, Respondent has been a domestic corporation with its principal office and place of business located at 7135 Charlotte Pike, Suite 100, Nashville, Tennessee, and at places of business located at airports nation-wide, including a place of business located at John F. Kennedy International Airport (“JFK Airport”) in Queens, New York, and has been engaged in the business of providing airport terminal services, including baggage handling, skycap services, checkpoint services and wheelchair assistance, to JetBlue Airways Corp. at JFK Airport.
- (b) Based on a projection of its operations since about May 9, 2016, at which time Respondent commenced its operations at JFK Airport, Respondent will annually provide services valued in excess of $50,000 for JetBlue Airways Corp., an enterprise which is directly engaged in interstate commerce.

(c) At all material times, Respondent has been an employer engaged in commerce within the meaning of Section 2(2), (6), and (7) of the Act.

3. At all material times, the Charging Party has been a labor organization within the meaning of Section 2(5) of the Act.

4. At all material times, William R. Stejskal III has been a Senior Vice President of Respondent and an agent of Respondent within the meaning of Section 2(13) of the Act.

5. (a) The following employees of Air Serv Corporation ("Air Serv") constitute a unit ("Air Serv Unit") appropriate for the purposes of collective bargaining within the meaning of Section 9(b) of the Act:

All full-time and regular part-time employees, excluding security officers, office clericals, supervisors, managers and confidential employees employed by Air Serv at Newark Liberty, John F. Kennedy International and LaGuardia Airports.

(b) At all material times from about March 26, 2015, until about May 9, 2016, the Charging Party was recognized by Air Serv as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Air Serv Unit. Such recognition was embodied in a recognition agreement, signed by the Charging Party and Air Serv on or about March 26, 2015.

(c) At all material times from about March 26, 2015, until about May 9, 2016, based on Section 9(a) of the Act, the Charging Party was the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Air Serv Unit.

6. At all material times, until about May 9, 2016, Air Serv was engaged in the business of providing terminal services, including baggage handling, skycap services and checkpoint services, to Jet Blue Airways Corp. at JFK Airport.

7. (a) About May 9, 2016, Respondent entered into a contract with JetBlue Airways Corp. and began providing the terminal services previously performed by Air Serv at JFK Airport, described above in paragraph 5, as well as wheelchair assistance services.

(b) Since about May 9, 2016, Respondent has continued to operate the portion of Air Serv's business at JFK Airport in basically unchanged form.

(c) Since about May 9, 2016, Respondent has employed, as a majority of its employees at JFK Airport, individuals who were previously employees of Air Serv.

(d) Based on its operations described above in subparagraphs 6(a) through (c), Respondent has continued the employing entity and is a successor to Air Serv.

8. The following employees of Respondent ("the Unit") constitute a unit appropriate for the purposes of collective-bargaining within the meaning of Section 9(b) of the Act:

All full-time and regular part-time employees employed by Respondent at JFK Airport, excluding confidential employees, office clericals, guards and supervisors, as defined by the Act.

9. At all material times, since about May 9, 2016, based on Section 9(a) of the Act, the Charging Party has been the designated exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

10. At all material times since about May 9, 2016, Respondent, at JFK Airport and at its other facilities nation-wide:

(a) Maintained a mandatory arbitration agreement under which employees are compelled to waive the right to maintain class or collective actions in all forums, whether arbitral or judicial;

(b) Maintained a mandatory arbitration agreement that employees reasonably would believe bars or restricts them from filing charges with the Board and/or restricts their access to the Board's processes; and

(c) Required as a condition of employment that its employees sign the mandatory arbitration agreement described above in subparagraphs 10(a) and (b).

11. On or about May 23, 2016, the Charging Party, by letter, requested that Respondent recognize it as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit and that Respondent bargain collectively with the Charging Party as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

12. Since about May 23, 2016, the Charging Party has requested in writing that Respondent furnish the Charging Party with the following information:

(a) A roster of all bargaining unit employees, including their names, addresses, telephone numbers, e-mail addresses, wages, shifts, classifications and start dates;

(b) A copy of any employee handbook applicable to any bargaining unit employee;

(c) A copy of the summary plan description for any health insurance or other employee benefit plan applicable to any bargaining unit employee.

13. The information requested by the Charging Party, as described above in paragraph 12 is necessary for, and relevant to, the Charging Party's performance of its duties as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

14. (a) By letter dated May 25, 2016, from Senior Vice President William R. Stejskal III to the Charging Party, Respondent failed and refused to recognize and bargain with the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

(b) Since about May 25, 2016, Respondent has failed and refused to recognize and bargain with the Union as the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of the Unit.

15. (a) By letter dated May 25, 2016, from Senior Vice President William R. Stejskal III to the Charging Party, Respondent failed and refused to furnish the Charging Party with the information requested by it as described above in paragraph 12.

(b) Since about May 25, 2016, Respondent has failed and refused to furnish the Charging Party with the information requested by it as described above in paragraph 11.

16. By the conduct described above in paragraph 10, Respondent has been interfering with, restraining, and coercing employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in Section 7 of the Act in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of the Act.

17. By the conduct described above in paragraphs 14 and 15, Respondent has been failing and refusing to bargain collectively and in good faith with the exclusive collective-bargaining representative of its employees in violation of Section 8(a)(1) and (5) of the Act.

18. The unfair labor practices of Respondent described above affect commerce within the meaning of Section 2(6) and (7) of the Act.

REMEDY

As part of the remedy for the unfair labor practices alleged above in paragraphs 10, 14 and 15, the General Counsel seeks a remedial order requiring Respondent to post in its main office in Terminal 5 at JFK Airport, where employees clock in and clock out, a Notice addressing all of the above unfair labor practices. In addition, the General Counsel seeks a remedial order requiring Respondent to post, at all of its facilities nationwide, a Notice addressing the unfair labor practices alleged in paragraph 10.

(a) The General Counsel further seeks an Order requiring that Respondent rescind or revise its Arbitration Agreement to omit any provisions that unlawfully restrict its employee in the exercise of their rights under the Act and that Respondent provide its employees corporate wide with a revised version of its policy.

The General Counsel further seeks all other relief as may be just and proper to remedy the unfair labor practices alleged.

ANSWER REQUIREMENT

Respondent is notified that, pursuant to Sections 102.20 and 102.21 of the Board's Rules and Regulations, it must file an answer to the complaint. The answer must be received by this office on or before August 19, 2016, or postmarked on or before August 18, 2016. Respondent should file an original and four copies of the answer with this office and serve a copy of the answer on each of the other parties.

An answer may also be filed electronically through the Agency's website. To file electronically, go to www.nlrb.gov, click on E-File Documents, enter the NLRB Case Number, and follow the detailed instructions. The responsibility for the receipt and usability of the answer rests exclusively upon the sender. Unless notification on the Agency's website informs users that the Agency's E-Filing system is officially determined to be in technical failure because it is unable to receive documents for a continuous period of more than 2 hours after 12:00 noon (Eastern Time) on the due date for filing, a failure to timely file the answer will not be excused on the basis that the transmission could not be accomplished because the Agency's website was off-line or unavailable for some other reason. The Board's Rules and Regulations require that an answer be signed by counsel or non-attorney representative for represented parties or by the party if not represented. See Section 102.21. If the answer being filed electronically is a pdf document containing the required signature, no paper copies of the answer need to be transmitted to the Regional Office. However, if the electronic version of an answer to a complaint is not a pdf file containing the required signature, then the E-filing rules require that such answer containing the required signature continue to be submitted to the Regional Office by traditional means within three (3) business days after the date of electronic filing. Service of the answer on each of the other parties must still be accomplished by means allowed under the Board's Rules and Regulations. The answer may not be filed by facsimile transmission. If no answer is filed, or if an answer is filed untimely, the Board may find, pursuant to a Motion for Default Judgment, that the allegations in the complaint are true.

Any request for an extension of time to file an answer must, pursuant to Section 102.111(b) of the Board's Rules and Regulations, be received by close of business on August 19, 2016, the request should be in writing and addressed to the Regional Director of Region 29.

NOTICE OF HEARING

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT on October 4, 2016 at 9:30 a.m. in a hearing room located at 2 MetroTech Center, Suite 5100 Brooklyn, New York and on consecutive days thereafter until concluded, a hearing will be conducted before an administrative law judge of the National Labor Relations Board. At the hearing, Respondent and any other party to this proceeding have the right to appear and present testimony regarding the allegations in this complaint. The procedures to be followed at the hearing are described in the attached Form NLRB-4668. The procedure to request a postponement of the hearing is described in the attached Form NLRB-4338.

ANSWER OF RESPONDENT
PRIMEFLIGHT AVIATION SERVICES, INC.
TO THE COMPLAINT

Comes now Respondent, PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc., and answers the Complaint issued in the above-referenced cases as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraph 1 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 2

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraphs 2(a) and 2(b) of the Complaint. Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 2(c) and would show that the Respondent is not an Employer within the meaning of the National Labor Relations Act.

PARAGRAPH 3

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraph 3 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 4

Respondent admits that William R. Stejskal, III, listed in Paragraph 4 of the Complaint held the position of Senior Vice President of Respondent therein and has been an agent of Respondent within the meaning of Section 2(13) of the Act.

PARAGRAPH 5

Respondent is without sufficient knowledge to admit or deny the allegations contained in Paragraphs 5(a), 5(b) and 5(c) of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 6

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraph 6 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 7

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraphs 7(a) and 7(b) of the Complaint. However, Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraphs 7(c) and 7(d) of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 8

Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 8 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 9

Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 9 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 10

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraphs 10(a) and 10(c) of the Complaint. However, Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 10(b) of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 11

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraph 11 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 12

Respondent admits the allegations contained in Paragraphs 12(a), 12(b) and 12(c) of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 13

Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 13 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 14

Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraphs 14(a) and 14(b) of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 15

Respondent denies the allegations contained in Paragraphs 15(a) and 15(b) of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 16

Respondent denies the allegation set forth in Paragraph 16 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 17

Respondent denies the allegation set forth in Paragraph 17 of the Complaint.

PARAGRAPH 18

Respondent denies the allegation set forth in Paragraph 18 of the Complaint.

REMEDY

In response to the remedies portion of the Complaint, the Respondent would show that the remedies sought are unreasonable, burdensome, overly broad and unnecessary to effectuate the purposes of the National Labor Relations Act.

FIRST DEFENSE

Respondent submits that it was not an employer engaged in commerce as required by the National Labor Relations Act during the relevant time period in this matter.

SECOND DEFENSE

Respondent submits that its employees are engaged in traditional airline work and that it operates under the control of air carriers and is, therefore, subject to the Railway Labor Act. Furthermore, the Regional Director has failed to properly investigate the question of Railway Labor Act jurisdiction in violation of Respondent's due process rights.

THIRD DEFENSE

Respondent submits that the Regional Director's attempt to assert jurisdiction in this case does not effectuate the purposes of the Act and his attempt to do so is arbitrary and an abuse of discretion.

FOURTH DEFENSE

The NLRB Regional Director has failed to follow the NLRB Case Handling Manual, including Section 11711.2 which provides that cases of arguable Railway Labor Act jurisdiction are to be referred to the National Mediation Board for an advisory opinion on the jurisdictional issue.

FIFTH DEFENSE

Since on or about June 10, 2016, the Service Employees International Union, Local 32BJ, the Charging Party herein, has failed to provide relevant information requested by the Respondent with regard to the successorship issue in violation of the Act.

SIXTH DEFENSE

The Union's May 23, 2016, demand for recognition upon PrimeFlight was premature on the basis that PrimeFlight had not reached a substantial and representative complement of employees.

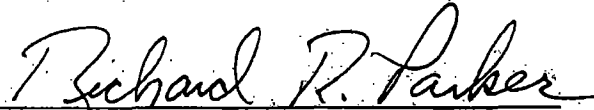

Respondent further seeks recovery of its costs and attorneys' fees pursuant to the Equal Access to Justice Act.

WHEREFORE, Respondent having fully answered the Complaint, requests that the Complaint against it be dismissed in its entirety.

Dated this 19th day of August 2016.

[REDACTED]

I am employed by PrimeFlight Airline Services located at JFK Airport, Terminal 5.

1. I have worked at Terminal 5 in JFK Airport since about June 8, 2014. At that time, I was hired by a company called AirServ. Marina DeMarco (title unknown) hired me. Marina hired me to be a Wheelchair Agent. After I was hired, I went to training for three days at Building 79 in Rockaway, Queens. During training, I listened to Marina talk about how to do the job of a Wheelchair Agent, and watched slides that she presented. Marina was the only presenter during training. During one day of training, I had to answer about 100 questions about the airport. After training, I went to get an identification card in Building 14, the federal building. The identification card said "AirServ" on it. After I got my identification card, I began working as a Wheelchair Agent. I wore a uniform: blue shirt, blue-ish striped tie, scarf worn as a bow tie, and dark blue vest that said "AirServ" on it. My duties as a Wheelchair Agent were to pick up passengers (for example, from their cars or from the ticket counter), and take them in a wheelchair through the security process to the gates where they can board their plane. I used wheelchairs that said "JetBlue" on them for all passengers in the terminal. (The airlines in Terminal 5 are JetBlue and Aerlingus). When I worked as a Wheelchair Agent for AirServ, my supervisor was Kumal (last name unknown, title unknown). I was paid $10 per hour, and my schedule was 10:30 AM to 6:30 PM, five days per week (I did not work Thursdays and Fridays). In addition, I sometimes worked overtime. I had to clock in and clock out using a time clock located in the locker room on the arrival floor.

2. In or about February 2015, I stopped working as a Wheelchair Agent and I began working in Queue Line. My supervisor, Kumal, said that more workers were needed at the Queue Line, so I signed up to do it. I wore a different uniform than the one I wore as a Wheelchair Agent: a white shirt with the "AirServ" logo, the same dark blue vest and pants, with a tie instead of a scarf. My schedule and pay remained the same. I didn't attend any new training when I began working in Queue Line. The duties of the Queue Line workers are to direct passengers where to go when they are trying to get through security in the etreminal. Queue Line workers were assigned to different areas of the terminal, such as "precheck" (where I directed precheck passengers towards the appropriate TSA area on the South side of the terminal), "even more speed" (where I directed "even more speed" passengers towards the appropriate TSA area on the North side of the terminal), "all gates" North and South (where I directed non-precheck and non-"even more speed" passengers to the appropriate TSA area, on either the North or South side of the terminal), "the randomizer" (where I directed passengers into different lanes towards the TSA area, so that the lines would be even), "the pit queue" (where I directed passengers to one of 11 TSA tables to have their bags scanned), and "the pit" itself (where I told passengers to put their bag, belt, etc. on the machine to be scanned). A schedule was posted in the AirServ office, located on the South side of the terminal, that told Queue Line workers which area to report to on any given day. Kumal and another supervisor, Troy (the evening shift supervisor), made the schedules. I know that they made the schedules because other workers sometimes asked Kumal and Troy not to be assigned to certain areas. I never made such a request of Kumal or Troy. I didn't use any equipment to do the Queue Line work. The schedule was always posted on the wall in the dispatch office.

3. In or about the first week of May 2016, I got a text message from a company called PrimeFlight Airline Services ("PrimeFlight"), which said something about PrimeFlight taking over the work at Terminal 5 from AirServ. The text message gave instructions about how to keep my job. The instructions said something about going online and filling out some forms. After I got the text message, my son went to the library and filled out the forms for me. The next day, I got another text from PrimeFlight, which said that I had to go to Building 14 at 8:00 AM on a certain day. I went there, and I filled out some forms, gave them a copy of my identification card, and they gave me some forms with some rules on them. I don't recall exactly what the forms said. About six people from PrimeFlight, including a man named Matt (last name unknown) and a woman named Florence ("Flo" for short, last name unknown) spoke to a group of about 20-25 employees. Matt said that we could request to change our schedule. I asked to keep my shift times but to change my days off to Saturday and Sunday. I wrote down my request on a piece of paper and submitted it. The entire process took about one or two hours.

4. About a week later, I got another text message from PrimeFlight. This text message said that I had to go to the Hilton Hotel in Queens at 7:00 AM on a certain day for training. I went to the Hilton as instructed. My measurements were taken for a uniform. A woman named Florence, or "Flo" for short (last name unknown), presented some slides and spoke about how to perform the Wheelchair Agent duties, and about items that are allowed and not allowed on an airplane. Flo spoke for about one to two hours. After she was done, I had to complete a 25 question true or false questionnaire about the same subject. The test was pretty much the same as the test that I had to take when I started working for AirServ. That was all we did that day, and training continued the next day.
5. The next day, I went back to the Hilton Hotel. Another woman (I don't recall her name, not Flo), spoke about safety precautions at the airport, how to dress and how to conduct oneself. She spoke for about one to two hours. After she was finished, I had to complete a 25 question true or false questionnaire about the same subject. Again, the test was pretty much the same as the test that I had to take when I started working for AirServ. Finally, I received a uniform that day: a grey shirt, black tie, black pants, black vest with the word "PrimeFlight" on it.

6. At some point prior to May 10, 2016, I went to the federal building, where they changed my identification card. They removed "AirServ" from the card and replaced it with "PrimeFlight." Other than that one change, the card is the same.
7. On or about May 10, 2016, PrimeFlight took over at Terminal 5. I worked that day. Mostly everything was the same as under Airserv. My supervisor was still Kumal. I worked the same shift. I did the same work. Nothing about the work that I do changed. At that time, there was no schedule posted in the dispatch office, so I just continued working my same schedule. All the Queue Line workers and I knew which area to report to because we did the same as we did under AirServ.
8. Since PrimeFlight took over, one of the only differences is that I wear a different uniform and my identification card now says "PrimeFlight." Another difference was that, instead of clocking in using the time clock in the locker room, when PrimeFlight took over, I had to sign in and out using a book in the dispatch office. After a couple days, the book was replaced with a time clock in the dispatch office. I now clock in and out by swiping a card through the time clock. Basically everything else has remained the same.
9. The shift supervisor during the morning shift (my shift) is now Eon (last name unknown). Eon became my supervisor when Kumal quit, on or about July 1, 2016. I don't recall what work Eon did previously. Troy is still the evening shift supervisor. The supervisors above Troy and Kumal/Eon changed when PrimeFlight took over, but I don't know who all of them are. I know that a man named Josh is a higher level supervisor for PrimeFlight. He makes the schedules now. He sometimes works in the dispatch office, and he sometimes works in the office on the arrivals floor. On one occasion, in or about June 2016, Josh called me into the dispatch office and told me that my shift would be changed to 3:00 AM to 10:30 AM. I told him that I can't work that shift. Josh said, well that is all I have and everyone must comply. I said, okay. After that conversation, I just kept working the same shift as always, 10:30 AM to 6:00 PM.

I am being provided a copy of this Confidential Witness Affidavit for my review. I understand that this affidavit is a confidential law enforcement record and should not be shown to any person other than my attorney or other person representing me in this proceeding.

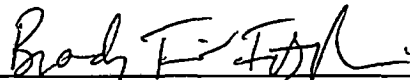

I have read this Confidential Witness Affidavit consisting of 6 pages, including this page, I fully understand it, and I state under penalty of perjury that it is true and correct. However, if after reviewing this affidavit again, I remember anything else that is important or I wish to make any changes, I will immediately notify the Board agent.

Re: PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc.
Case No. 29-CA-177992

Dear Mr. Francisco-FitzMaurice:

I represent the Employer, PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc. (hereinafter "PrimeFlight"), in the above-referenced matter. In response to your letter and information request dated June 29, 2016, the Employer submits the following position statement concerning the three allegations listed in your letter as set forth below:

1. Since about May 23, 2016, PrimeFlight has refused to recognize and bargain with the Union, in violation of Sections 8(a)(1) and (5) of the National Labor Relations Act ("Act");
2. Since about since about May 23, 2016, PrimeFlight has failed to provide information that is necessary and relevant to bargaining for the bargaining unit located at Terminal 5 in JFK Airport, in violation of Sections 8(a)(1) and (5) of the Act; and
3. Within the six months preceding the filing of the charge, PrimeFlight has required, as a condition of employment, an arbitration agreement in which employees surrender their right to engage in protected concerted activity to resolve statutory employment claims, in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of the Act.

A. Background Information

PrimeFlight is a wholly-owned subsidiary of SMS Holdings and operates ground handling and terminal services at a number of airports around the country. It provides wheelchair assistance, baggage handling assistance, and checkpoint services under a recently awarded contract for JetBlue Airlines at the John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK) located in New York, New York. It employs approximately 500 individuals at the facility. Services provided to JetBlue constitute all of PrimeFlight's operations at the JFK Airport.

In early 2016, PrimeFlight successfully bid on certain services provided to JetBlue by Air Serv Corporation and PAX Assist. These services included baggage handling, skycap, checkpoint services and wheelchair assistance. Prior to taking over the JetBlue contract, PrimeFlight determined that it needed 500 employees to be hired in 3 phases. In mid-March, PrimeFlight prepared a memorandum for distribution to all Air Serv and PAX Assist employees regarding employment opportunities with PrimeFlight and requested that management personnel from both predecessor companies distribute it to their respective employees. In order to get to 500 employees, the first phase of hiring was scheduled to begin in April 2016, the second phase was scheduled for early June 2016, and the third phase was scheduled for mid to late June 2016.

PrimeFlight commenced operations at JFK on May 9, 2016. Service Employees International Union, Local 32BJ ("Union") sent a letter to PrimeFlight ("Company") dated May 23, 2016, alleging that the Company was a successor employer for two bargaining units, one unit located at JFK and the second unit located at Newark Liberty Airport. (Attachment A). In the letter, the Union advised that the appropriate bargaining unit included all regular full-time and regular part-time employees engaged in baggage handling, skycap, checkpoint services and wheelchair assistance. The letter from the Union also requested a substantial amount of information related to the Company's employees at JFK and its policies. At the time of receipt of the letter, PrimeFlight was well aware that Air Serv Corporation had previously performed some of the work it had started to perform for JetBlue (baggage handling, skycap and checkpoint services), but was unaware of any bargaining relationship between the Union and Air Serv. Consequently, by letter dated May 25, 2016, the Company responded to the Union's letter by requesting evidence in support of the Union's assertion that PrimeFlight is a successor to Air Serv Corporation. (Attachment B).

By letter dated June 2, 2016, the Union attached a copy of an executed Recognition Agreement between Air Serv Corporation and the Union dated March 26, 2015. (Attachment C). The Company had not seen the Recognition Agreement and was never advised by JetBlue or Air Serv that such an agreement was in place. Upon receipt of the letter and agreement, the Company responded by letter dated June 10, 2016, requesting any other agreements between Air Serv and the Union, including any existing card check agreement or collective bargaining agreement. (Attachment D).

On June 10, 2016, the Company was notified by the NLRB that the Union had filed the above-referenced unfair labor practice charge on June 8, 2016. By letter dated June 15, 2016, the Union responded to PrimeFlight that it had supplied sufficient documentation to demonstrate that it represented the Company's employees at JFK. (Attachment E). There has been no additional correspondence between the parties.

B. The Threshold Issue Of Jurisdiction

As a provider of services to an airline carrier, PrimeFlight submits that it is subject to jurisdiction under the Railway Labor Act (RLA) and, therefore, the National Labor Relations Board lacks jurisdiction in this matter pursuant to Section 2(2) of the National Labor Relations Act (NLRA).¹

It is significant to point out that as recently as 2008, the NLRB ruled that PrimeFlight's similarly-situated operations and its employees who performed baggage and wheelchair assistance, skycap and related services at the LaGuardia Airport in Queens, New York were subject to jurisdiction under the Railway Labor Act. See PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc. and Local 726, International Union of Journeymen and Allied Trades, 353 NLRB 467 (2008). PrimeFlight's method of operation and services provided does not vary significantly from airport to airport. Therefore, substantially all of the factors relied on by the NLRB, including those set forth by the NMB in PrimeFlight Case No. 34 NMB No. 33, to support a finding of RLA jurisdiction in the LaGuardia case are currently present at the JFK airport operations.

1. Applicable Legal Standard

Section 201 of the Railway Labor Act makes the RLA applicable to common carriers by air in interstate or foreign commerce. An employer that is not a common carrier can nonetheless be subject to the RLA under certain circumstances. The RLA includes the following broad definition of carrier which applies with equal force to the railway and airline industries:

Any company which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by or under common control with any carrier and which operates any equipment or facilities or performs any service (other than trucking service) in connection with the transportation, receipt, delivery, elevation, transfer in transit and handling of property transported by railroad."

In determining whether an employer that provides services to an air carrier is subject to the RLA, the National Mediation Board (NMB) applies a two prong test: (1) whether the work performed by the entity's employees has traditionally been performed by the employees of an air carrier (the "function" test); and (2) whether there is common ownership or control between the entity and the air carrier (the "ownership or control" test). Both components of the test must be met for the NMB to assert jurisdiction. See Bradley Pacific Aviation, Inc., 34 NMB 119 (2007). See also Aircraft Servs. Int'l Group, Inc., 33 NMB 200 (2006).

Factors significant in determining whether an entity is controlled directly or indirectly by an air carrier include: (1) the carrier's role in hiring, discipline, or terminating employees; (2) the degree to which the carrier affects the conditions of employment of the entity's employees; (3) whether the entity's employees are held out to the public as carrier employees; (4) the degree of influence that the carrier exercises over training received by the entity's employees; (5) whether the carrier shares office space with or leases office space to the other entity; (6) whether the carrier exercises control and/or supervision over the entity's employees in performance of their job duties, including requiring the entity's employees to follow the carrier's policies; and (7) whether the entity must file periodic reports with the carrier and attend managerial and related meetings held by the carrier.

a. PrimeFlight Meets Both Parts Of The Two-Prong Test To Find RLA Jurisdiction

PrimeFlight's employees perform work that is traditionally performed by employees in the airline industry. Skycap services, including curbside baggage check-in, baggage claim area monitoring, handling and assistance, and wheelchair and passenger assistance are activities that have regularly been found to be work traditionally performed by employees of an air carrier. See Command Sec. Corp., 27 NMB 581, 584 (2000); AVGR Int'l Bus., 27 NMB 232, 235 (2000); and Quality Aircraft Services, 24 NMB 286, 287 (1997). In fact, in the PrimeFlight case cited above, the parties stipulated that similarly-situated employees in the same job classifications performed work traditionally performed by employees in the airline industry.

b. PrimeFlight Clearly Meets the "Control" Part Of The Test

In support of its contention of significant control exercised by the carrier over labor relations and operations, PrimeFlight submits that JetBlue exercises similar control in the areas of hiring and discipline of employees, scheduling, staffing and training of employees was found to exist by the NLRB and NMB by carriers in the LaGuardia case. Consequently, PrimeFlight and its employees working at JFK are engaged in interstate air carriage and are subject to the RLA. As a result, the Company submits that the Charge in this case should be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. In the alternative, the Company submits that the Charge be referred to the NMB for an advisory opinion because there is "arguable RLA jurisdiction" in this matter. See NLRB Case Handling Manual, § 1171.2 (Sept. 2014) ("the Board's practice is to refer cases of arguable or doubtful RLA jurisdiction to the NMB for an advisory opinion on the jurisdiction issue").

C. Request For Documents

In response to your specific Request for Documents, please find the following:

1. A list of the 520 employees who have been hired by PrimeFlight during the period from April 1, 2016, to July 6, 2016, with information regarding hire dates, job classification, telephone numbers and shifts. (Attachment F);²
2. An organizational chart for the JFK operation (Attachment G);

² The Company believes that the home addresses, email addresses and wages of employees are considered personal information, are not relevant, and, therefore, have not been included.

3. All correspondence during the period January 1, 2016, to present pertaining to employees employed at Terminal 5 in JFK between PrimeFlight and Air Serv Corporation and PAX Assist (Attachment H);
4. No information has been provided to the Union other than the exchange of correspondence previously mentioned; and
5. All arbitration agreements distributed to applicants or employees (Attachment I).

D. Legal Analysis Regarding Successorship

Generally speaking, in order for a new employer to be a “successor” to bargaining obligations, there must be a finding of “continued majority status.” See NLRB v. Burns Int’l Sec. Servs., 406 U.S. 272, 304-305 (1972).

1. Substantial Continuity

The Board looks at the totality of circumstances to determine whether there is substantial continuity between a predecessor company and a new company such that the new company should be deemed a successor obligated to recognize and bargain with a union that represented a bargaining unit employed by the predecessor employer.

In Fall River Dyeing Corp. v. NLRB, 482 U.S. 27, 43 (1987), the Court explained that to make that determination it will first examine:

- whether the business of both employers is essentially the same;
- whether the employees of the new company are doing the same jobs in the same working conditions under the same supervisors; and
- and whether the new entity has the same production process, produces the same products, and basically has the same body of customers.

PrimeFlight submits that the substantial continuity of the employing industry is lacking in this case. While it is true that PrimeFlight provides similar services to JetBlue as provided by Air Serv, a substantial amount of the work now done by PrimeFlight for JetBlue includes wheelchair assistance, a service that Air Serv did not provide. Consequently, a substantial number of PrimeFlight employees (approximately 50%) are performing work not previously performed by Air Serv. This calls into question whether the continuity of the appropriate bargaining unit originally recognized by Air Serv in the Recognition Agreement has been maintained. PrimeFlight submits that merging the larger unrepresented wheelchair assistants’ classification into the previous unit recognized by Air Serv supports a finding that the unit is no longer appropriate. See Border Steel Rolling Mills, 204 NLRB 274 (1973).

2. Timing of Majority Status Calculation

To establish successorship status, a majority of employees in the successor employer's bargaining unit must have been employed by the predecessor. The timing of that calculation is appropriate when a substantial and representative complement exists. The Board will consider the following factors in making that determination:

- whether the job classifications designated for the operation were filled or substantially filled;
- whether the operation was in normal or substantially normal production;
- the size of the complement on that date and the time expected to elapse before a substantially larger complement would be at work; and
- the relative certainty of the employer's expected expansion.

See Fall River Dyeing Corp., supra at 48-49.

The Board has held that it is appropriate to delay the bargaining obligation determination where the new employer expects with reasonable certainty to substantially increase its employee complement within a relatively short period of time. Myers Custom Products, 278 NLRB 636 (1986). Clearly, an employer violates the Act by recognizing the Union when, at the time of recognition, it has definite plans to expand and significantly increase its workforce. See Cascade Gen., 303 NLRB 656 (1991).

PrimeFlight submits that the Union's demand for recognition on May 23, 2016, was premature because the Company was still hiring and a substantial and representative complement of employees had not been reached. The following facts support this finding:

- 1) At the time PrimeFlight assumed the work for JetBlue, it had concrete plans to hire approximately 500 employees, 245 of which would be in the wheelchair assistant classification. (See Attachment J).
- 2) At the time of the Union's request for recognition on May 23, 2016, there were approximately 362 employees hired by PrimeFlight with approximately 189 hired from Air Serv. However, at that time, the job classifications were not substantially filled as evidenced by the fact that 78 more employees were hired just a few weeks later as part of the originally planned phase 2 hiring;
- 3) Consequently, within a matter of weeks the size of the complement increased substantially from 362 to 440. The number of predecessor employees increased by only 8 to 197 and the % of predecessor employees was not a majority of the workforce (44%) as of June 16, 2016. Attached is a list of the 197 predecessor employees hired by PrimeFlight as of June 16, 2016 (Attachment K); and

Brady Francisco-FitzMaurice, Esq.
 July 15, 2016

Ogletree
 Deakins

- 4) As originally planned, PrimeFlight immediately began phase 3 hiring and the size of the employee complement was increased by another 60 employees within a matter of just over two week. The overwhelming majority of jobs filled during phase 3 were in the wheelchair classification and few Air Serv employees were hired to fill those jobs.

As a result, PrimeFlight submits, and the evidence clearly supports a finding, that a substantial and representative complement of employees in the alleged bargaining unit did not exist until June 16, 2016, at the earliest. The correct timing to calculate whether a majority of employees in the successor's bargaining unit was employed by the predecessor was no sooner than June 16, 2016, and not May 23, 2016, as requested by the Union. The predecessor's employees did not make up a majority of PrimeFlight's employees on the June 16 date or thereafter. Consequently, PrimeFlight is not a successor to Air Serv and no bargaining obligation exists. Based on those facts, that portion of the Charge alleging a refusal to recognize the Union and a refusal to provide information must be dismissed.

E. Arbitration Agreement

PrimeFlight contends that its Arbitration Agreement lawfully requires employees to individually arbitrate employment-related disputes, for the reasons set forth by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in D.R. Horton, Inc. v. NLRB, 737 F.3d 344 (5th Cir. 2013), and in Murphy Oil v. NLRB, 808 F.3d 1013 (5th Cir., Oct. 26, 2015). In those cases, the Court held, and PrimeFlight contends, that: (1) the NLRB's rule invalidating class-action waivers failed to give proper weight to Federal Arbitration Act (FAA), and the arbitration agreement had to be enforced according to its terms; (2) the NLRB's interpretation that invalidating restrictions on class or collective actions would not conflict with FAA and did not fall within FAA's "saving clause;" and (3) the NLRA's language, legislative history, and purpose did not support a finding of congressional command exempting statute from application of FAA.

In D.R. Horton, the Court ruled that the right to participate in a class or collective action is not a substantive right, but rather, is a "procedural device." Id. at 357. The Court also held that the Board could not rely on the FAA's "saving clause" to justify its invalidation of arbitration agreements. On this point, the Court explained that "[r]equiring the availability of class actions 'interferes with fundamental attributes of arbitration and thus creates a scheme inconsistent with the FAA.'" Id. (Internal citations omitted). The Court also determined that the Board's prohibition of class action waivers disfavors arbitration, as it ruled that "[w]hile the Board's interpretation is facially neutral—requiring only that employees have access to collective procedures in an arbitral or judicial forum—the effect of this interpretation is to disfavor arbitration." Id. at 360. Therefore, the Court ruled that "the Board's rule does not fit within the FAA's saving clause." Id. at 359.

Next, the Court concluded that the NLRA does not contain a congressional command to override the FAA. The Court stated: "When considering whether a contrary congressional command is present, courts must remember 'that questions of arbitrability must be addressed with a healthy regard for the federal policy favoring arbitration.'" Id. at 360 (internal citations omitted). The Court explicitly ruled that "there is no basis on which to find that the text of the

Ogletree
 Deakins

NLRA supports a congressional command to override the FAA.” Id. Moreover, this Court found that neither the legislative history of the NLRA, nor any policy consideration, would permit the NLRA to override the FAA. Id. at 361.

Correspondingly, PrimeFlight contends that under AT&T Mobility v. Concepcion, 131 S. Ct. 1740 (2011); CompuCredit, Marmet Health Care Ctr. v. Brown, 133 S. Ct. 1201 (2012); American Express Co. v. Italian Colors Restaurant, 133 S. Ct. 2304 (2013); D.R. Horton, Inc. v. NLRB, and Murphy Oil v. NLRB, the validity and enforceability of its Agreement is beyond the jurisdiction of the Board and must be determined pursuant to the FAA. In American Express, issued after the Board’s decision in D.R. Horton, the Supreme Court held that a class action waiver must be enforced according to its terms in the absence of a “contrary congressional command” in the federal statute at issue. Id. at 2309; see also CompuCredit Corp. v. Greenwood, 132 S. Ct. 665, 669 (2012) (also issued after the Board’s decision in D.R. Horton).

In addition to the forgoing reasons, PrimeFlight asserts the following, and reserves the right to further develop these and other arguments at a later date:

- The joint pursuit of legal claims is not a substantive right under Section 7 of the Act;
- The NLRA does not contain a contrary congressional command to override the FAA;
- Mandatory arbitration agreements precluding employees from bringing group workplace claims do not affect any substantive rights under the NLRA;
- Employer-imposed arbitration agreements do not restrict Section 7 rights.

In your letter, you asked PrimeFlight to address the Murphy Oil USA, Inc., 361 NLRB No. 72, slip op. at 1 (2014), enf. denied 808 F.3d 1013 (5th Cir., Oct. 26, 2015) and the On Assignment Staffing Servs., Inc., 362 NLRB No. 189 (2015) Board decisions. Our position is that neither Murphy Oil nor On Assignment Staffing are applicable to this matter because both rely on D.R. Horton, Inc., 357 NLRB No. 184 (2012), enf. denied in relevant part 727 F.3d 344 (5th Cir. 2013), which was properly set aside by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

As discussed in more detail above, PrimeFlight contends that Murphy Oil was properly set-aside by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, and adopts the Court’s holding as its position on the treatment of the Board’s Murphy Oil Decision and Order. Specifically, the Court held that the Board’s decision was based solely on Murphy Oil’s enforcement of an agreement that the Board deemed unlawful because it required employees to individually arbitrate employment-related disputes – and that the Court’s decision in D.R. Horton foreclosed that argument. Murphy Oil, 808 F.3d 1013, 1021.

In addition, the Court held that the language in the revised Murphy Oil arbitration agreement could not be reasonably read as prohibiting the filing of Board charges, because it stated:

Nothing in this Agreement precludes [employees] from participating in proceedings to adjudicate unfair labor practice charges before the Board.

PrimeFlight’s Agreement contains similar language:

Brady Francisco-FitzMaurice, Esq.
 July 15, 2016

Ogletree
 Deakins

This Agreement does not affect or limit Employee's right to file an administrative charge with a state or federal agency such as the National Labor Relations Board.

PrimeFlight contends that the language in its Agreement cannot be reasonably read as prohibiting or "chilling" employees' right to file Board charges.

In On Assignment Staffing Servs., Inc., 362 NLRB No. 189 (2015), the Board applied Murphy Oil, and D. R. Horton, Inc. to find that the Employer violated Section 8(a)(1) of the Act by promulgating and maintaining a mandatory arbitration agreement under which employees were compelled, as a condition of employment, to waive the right to maintain class or collective actions in all forums, unless employees individually opted out of the waiver within 10 days of receiving a copy of the agreement. Here, the Board focused on whether the "opt-out" provision "saved" a class action waiver that was, under the Board's theory, otherwise unlawful. Not surprisingly, the Board majority found that the opt-out provision did not save the waiver, which was unlawful under "the rule announced in D. R. Horton and reaffirmed in Murphy Oil." 362 NLRB No. 189, at 5. The Board's holding in On Assignment Staffing is not applicable here because: (1) it relies upon the incorrectly decided rule announced in D. R. Horton and reaffirmed in Murphy Oil; and (2) it relates to an opt-out provision, and PrimeFlight's Agreement does not contain such a provision.

F. The Region Has No Basis Upon Which To Request Extraordinary 10(j) Relief

Injunctive relief is unnecessary and inappropriate in this case. As previously stated, the current charge alleges a failure to recognize the Union, a failure to provide the Union with information and an unlawful arbitration agreement. The Union's demand for recognition was premature and once a representative complement of employees existed in late June 2016, the Union did not have a majority status and PrimeFlight was not a successor. Moreover, because PrimeFlight is not a successor, no obligation to provide information existed.

With regard to the Arbitration Agreement, PrimeFlight's position is that the agreement does not violate the Act.

But, even assuming the current allegations are true – which they are not – these allegations do not provide a basis for 10(j) relief, which is an extraordinary measure. Traditional Board remedies are more than adequate to address any alleged violations.

1. 10(j) Relief Is An Extraordinary And Unusual Remedy Not Warranted In This Case

It is well-established that "injunctive relief pursuant to 10(j) is an extraordinary remedy to be requested by the Board and granted by a district court only under very limited circumstances." Kinney v. Int'l Un. Of Operating Eng'rs, Local 150, 994 F.2d 1271, 1277 (7th Cir. 1993); Kobell v. Suburban Lines, 731 F.2d 1076, 1091 n. 26 (3d Cir. 1984). Because Section 10(j) injunctive relief is such an extraordinary remedy, it is only appropriate in the "unusual likelihood (compared to other cases before the Board) of ultimate remedial failure" and

Brady Francisco-FitzMaurice, Esq.

 Deakins

“was not intended to undermine the normal processes of labor law adjudication: administrative resolution by the NLRB followed, if necessary, by enforcement in the courts of appeals.” Kobell, 731 F.2d at 1091 n. 26. Importantly, an injunction that would “short-circuit” the Board’s administrative process should not be granted. Boire v. Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., 515 F.2d 1185, 1192 (5th Cir. 1975); McLeod v. General Elec. Co., 366 F.2d 847, 850 (2d Cir. 1966); Johnson v. Sunshine Piping, 238 F. Supp. 2d 1297, 1302 (N.D. Fla. 2002). That is, the Region may not simply seek prospective enforcement of an anticipated Board order via a 10(j) proceeding. The purpose of Section 10(j) is “to give the Board a means of preserving the status quo pending completion of its regular procedures which might be ineffective if immediate relief cannot be granted.” Calatrello v. Automatic Sprinkler Corp. of Am., 55 F.3d 208, 214 (6th Cir. 1995). It is only to preserve the Board’s ultimate remedial authority. It “is not to be a substitute for the exercise of that power.” Kobell, 732 F.2d at 1091. Section 10(j) relief is therefore only necessary where, unless granted, any final order of the Board would be rendered meaningless and the purposes of the act would be frustrated. Arlook v. Lichtenberg & Co., 952 F.2d 367, 372 (11th Cir. 1992); Minnesota Mining & Mfg. Co. v. Meter, 385 F.2d 265, 271 (8th Cir. 1967); Angle v. Sacks, 382 F.2d 655, 660 (10th Cir. 1967).

In most Circuits, to resolve a Section 10(j) petition, district courts consider two issues: (1) whether there is “reasonable cause to believe” that an employer violated the Act and (2) whether temporary injunctive relief is “just and proper.” See Ahearn v. Jackson Hosp. Corp., 351 F.3d 226, 234 (6th Cir. 2003); see also Schaub v. West Michigan Plumbing & Heating, Inc., 250 F.3d at 969 (6th Cir. 2001); and cases cited therein.

Even accepting the allegations as true, 10(j) relief is not warranted here because this is far from an “extraordinary” case. Indeed, Section 10(j) injunctive relief is not appropriate because (a) there is no reasonable cause to believe that the Act has been violated, and (b) even assuming evidence supported a reasonable cause finding, traditional Board remedies are sufficient to cure any alleged violations (which the Company denies exists), making such extraordinary relief neither just nor proper.

a. There Is No Reasonable Cause To Believe That PrimeFlight Violated The Act

To meet the reasonable cause prong of the test, “there must [first] be a substantial, non-frivolous, legal theory, implicit or explicit, in the Board’s argument, and second, taking the facts favorably to the Board, there must be sufficient evidence to support that theory.” Chester v. Grane Healthcare Co., 666 F.3d 87, 98 (3d Cir. 2011) (citations omitted). This inquiry “subsumes equitable considerations.” NLRB v. Webco Indus., Inc., 225 F.3d 1130, 1137 (10th Cir. 2000). At a minimum, the Regional Director must make a threshold showing of likelihood of success by establishing that its chances are “better than negligible.” NLRB v. Electro-Voice, 83 F.3d at 1568; Roland Machinery Co. v. Dresser Industries, Inc., 749 F.2d 380 (7th Cir 1984). The General Counsel has instructed Regions that “concerning the ‘success on the merits’ factor, the allegations of the complaint must be sufficiently strong that the Board likely will enter the final relief sought on a temporary basis through the Section 10(j) proceeding” and that equitable relief should be imposed “only when it is likely that the Board will impose such relief permanently.” Memorandum GC 02-07; Memorandum GC 06-02.

The Region lacks the evidentiary basis upon which to meet this standard. As set forth in the position statement, there is a legitimate question of fact concerning whether PrimeFlight is a successor to Air Serv based on the timing of the Union’s request for recognition and a substantial change in the bargaining unit classification. Consequently, there is simply not sufficient evidence at this time to support the charge for which relief is sought. As such, the Region has no rational basis upon which to establish the likelihood of success on the merits.

Most recently in NLRB v. Ridgewood Health Care Center, Inc., 2015 WL 9301411 (U.S. D. Court, N.D. Alabama 2015), the court found that a routine successorship case did not warrant 10(j) relief. In reaching its decision, the court first analyzed the extraordinary nature of Section 10(j) injunctive relief:

“Section 10(j) is itself an extraordinary remedy to be used by the Board only when, in its discretion, an employer or union has committed such egregious unfair labor practices that any final order of the Board will be meaningless or so devoid of force that the remedial purposes of the Act will be frustrated.” Pilot Freight Carriers, 515 F.2d at 1192 (emphasis added); see also Arlook for & on Behalf of N.L.R.B. v. S. Lichtenberg & Co., 952 F.2d 367, 372 (11th Cir. 1992)(quoting Pilot Freight, 515 F.2d at 1192). “[I]f a harm is of a routine character in the NLRA context, the parties usually can redress such wrongs under the NLRB administrative processes.” McKinney ex rel. N.L.R.B. v. Creative Vision Res., L.L.C., 783 F.3d 293, 299 (5th Cir.2015). “[C]are must be taken [by the court] so that [§ 10(j) injunctive relief] remains an extraordinary remedy, to be requested by the Board and granted by a district court only under very limited circumstances.” Hartman and Tyner, 714 F.3d at 1249 (quoting S. Lichtenberg & Co., 952 F.2d at 374) (emphasis added).”

Applying the standard to the facts in this case, the Court finds 10(j) not warranted:

“ .the Director must show that this failure to negotiate before setting the initial terms and conditions was “egregious” or extraordinary when compared to similar unfair labor practices. None of the evidence cited in the Director's Offer of Proof proves anything other than that the terms and conditions were changed. Id. at *12

The initial changes about which the Director complains affected all employees regardless of whether the employee was previously employed by Preferred. Moreover, the Director has not cited evidence that, before October 1, 2013, the Ridgewoods' status as a successor was “perfectly clear.” See Burns, 406 U.S. at 294–95, 92 S.Ct. 1571. Unilaterally setting the initial terms and conditions in a successor situation is an ordinary and routine—not egregious or extraordinary—unfair labor practice present in virtually every successor case in which the new employer does not recognize the Union.

Brady Francisco-FitzMaurice, Esq.

Ogletree
 Deakins

Nothing about the situation at the facility in this case demonstrates that the Ridgewoods' conduct rises above the employer conduct of the routine, ordinary successor case.

Although every unfair labor practice causes some harm, the harms in this case, as shown by the evidence cited by the Director, are routine and were largely complete long before the Director filed his Petition for immediate injunctive relief. The court finds that the wrongful conduct in this case is not egregious or extraordinary such that an immediate injunction would be just and proper." Id.

Therefore, in light of the Region's inability to show reasonable cause to believe that PrimeFlight violated the Act, in the facts of this case, resort to the extraordinary measure of 10(j) relief is improper.

2. In The Facts Of This Case Temporary Injunctive Relief Is Neither Just Nor Proper Because Traditional Remedies Would Completely Cure Any Alleged Violations

The just and proper standard calls upon courts to focus on the "public interest, and 'the unusual likelihood of ultimate remedial failure' by the NLRB." Chester, 666 F.3d at 98 (quoting Hirsch v. Dorsey Trailers, Inc., 147 F.3d 243, 247 (3d Cir. 1998)). Courts must look to "whether the ongoing practices would create 'irreparable' harms, i.e., injuries that could not be remediated by the Board's final decision." Chester, 666 F.3d at 98. In Weinberger v. Romero-Barcelo, 456 U.S. 305 (1982), the Supreme Court stated "[t]he Court has repeatedly held that the basis for injunctive relief in the federal courts has always been irreparable injury and the inadequacy of legal remedies." Id. In the context of Section 10(j) relief, the courts have long held that "the appropriateness and scope of an injunction may be measured by the need to maintain the status quo, to preserve the jurisdiction of the NLRB, and to foster the purposes of the federal labor laws." Air Express, 471 F. Supp. at 1124 (citing Pilot Freight, 515 F.2d at 1188 and Wilson v. Milk Drivers & Dairy Employees Union, 491 F.2d 200, 203 (8th Cir. 1974)); see also Minnesota Mining, 385 F.2d at 271; Angle v. Sacks, 382 F.2d 655, 660 (10th Cir. 1967); McLeod v. General Elec. Co., 366 F.2d 847, 850 (2d Cir. 1966).

To establish an entitlement to injunctive relief in the 10(j) context, it must be shown that: (1) the likelihood of success on the merits is "better than negligible," Electro-Voice, Inc., 83 F.3d at 1567; (2) there is no adequate remedy at law and an award of damages would be "seriously deficient," id.; (3) the charging party would be irreparably harmed without injunctive relief and that harm outweighs any harm to the employer if an injunction is issued; and (4) the public benefits of the injunction outweigh the public cost. Id. at 1574.

The allegations raised in the charge do not establish any of the relevant factors. Therefore, injunctive relief is inappropriate.

Brady Francisco-FitzMaurice, Esq.
 July 15, 2016

Ogletree

a. No Irreparable Injury Will Occur In The Absence Of 10(j) Relief

Section 10(j) relief is inappropriate because no irreparable injury will occur in the absence of injunctive relief since traditional Board remedies would allow for full recovery for any alleged harm to the Union or the employees. The General Counsel has stated that the most important factor when reviewing whether a complaint warrants 10(j) relief is “the potential threat that the Board’s ultimate remedial order will be ineffective to remedy the unfair labor practices and to protect statutory rights.” Memorandum GC 02-07 (August 9, 2001); see also Memorandum GC 06-02 (January 6, 2006).

In the unlikely event that the allegations in the charge are found to have merit, the Board could order various remedies, including a cease and desist order and an order to bargain; as a result, resort to injunctive relief is unnecessary and inappropriate. Most importantly, no evidence exists that the allegations present “extraordinary circumstances,” rendering traditional remedies insufficient to remedy these alleged violations. See Kobell, 731 F.2d 1076 (3d Cir. 1984); Moore-Duncan v. Traction Wholesale Center, 157 L.R.R.M 2100 (E.D. Pa. 1977) (injunctive relief denied when the Board failed to present “concrete evidence” that traditional remedies would fail).

b. The Harm To PrimeFlight Outweighs Any Alleged Harm the Union Or The Employees Will Face Absent Relief

Courts caution against ordering Section 10(j) relief, absent extraordinary circumstances, because it “injects the legal systems into disputes before a full airing of the facts and a careful consideration of the law, and mistakes can be costly.” Kinney, 994 F.2d at 1277. Any “mistake” in terms of awarding injunctive relief for the charge, which the Company believes has no merit, would be costly to PrimeFlight. PrimeFlight would be substantially harmed by injunctive relief if it is required to bargain with the Union and turnover information to the Union before a full hearing on the facts and a determination that a bargaining obligation even exists. Requiring PrimeFlight to do so would raise a host of problems.

In short, Section 10(j) relief is unwarranted in this case. The allegations do not demonstrate the kind of extraordinary circumstances that would justify 10(j) relief. And, even if the Region finds parts of the charge supported by the evidence, traditional Board remedies are sufficient to remedy any alleged harms. Accordingly, this is not an appropriate case for 10(j) relief.

G. Conclusion

The Company submits that, under the facts of this case, PrimeFlight was not a successor to Air Serv and no bargaining obligation exists. Also, PrimeFlight’s Arbitration Agreement does not violate the National Labor Relations Act. As a result, the Charge should be dismissed in its entirety.

Dear Sir or Madam:

PrimeFlight Aviation Services is the successor employer for two bargaining units represented by SEIU Local 32BJ. As such, PrimeFlight is legally obligated to recognize the union as the exclusive collective bargaining agent, bargain with us concerning terms and conditions of employment and to provide information necessary and relevant to collective bargaining. The two units are:

1. PrimeFlight's employees at JFK Airport, the majority of whom were formerly Air Serv employees represented by Local 32BJ. These are employees working at Terminal 5 on the Jet Blue account, providing baggage handling, skycap and check point services. As we understand it, the appropriate bargaining unit also includes employees providing wheelchair assistance. We request recognition for a unit of all full-time and regular part-time employees at Terminal 5 on the Jet Blue account, excluding supervisors, office clericals, and guards as defined in the NLRA.
2. PrimeFlight's employees at Newark Liberty Airport providing baggage handling, skycap and check point services at Terminal A for Jet Blue, a majority of whom are former Air Serv employees represented by Local 32BJ. We request recognition for a unit of all full-time and regular part-time employees at Terminal A on the Jet Blue account, excluding supervisors, office clericals, and guards as defined in the NLRA.

Please provide dates on which you are available to bargain.

Please provide us with the following information necessary and relevant to collective bargaining:

1. A roster of all bargaining unit employees, including their names, addresses, telephone numbers, e-mail addresses, wages, shifts, classifications and start dates.
2. A copy of any employee handbook applicable to any bargaining unit employee.
3. A copy of the summary plan description for any health insurance or other employee benefit plan applicable to any bargaining unit employee.

To: Air Serv Front-Line Employees

Subject: PrimeFlight Employment Opportunities and Important Information

Welcome to PrimeFlight! We look forward to you joining our team. Through the transition we will be available to answer your questions and concerns. In the interim, below are a few answers to important questions you may have, along with some next steps.

Your most important question will be: Will I have an opportunity to join PrimeFlight, and the answer is YES.

Additional answers to important questions:

- Health Insurance Benefits Available
- Paid Holidays/Vacations
- Promotions from within/career advancement opportunities
- Paid airport badging/fingerprinting

What you need to do and know to start the hiring process:

- As a first step; please apply on our portal at apply.primeflight.com. During the initial hiring event, we will be very happy to help you if you need assistance. Please bring two forms of ID to this event. All applicants will be drug screened.
- Exclusively for Air Serv employees and starting this Monday 3/21/16 from 0900-1500, and continuing Tuesday 3/22/16 and Wednesday 3/23/16 from 0900-1500. PrimeFlight staffing experts will be available to start your enrollment process, and answer your questions. (Please identify yourself as an Air Serv Employee when you arrive)

Monday-Wednesday Event Location

- Event Location: Building 14 – 3rd floor Conference Room 3E
- *Please bring with you a copy of your latest pay stub, Port Authority ID, and 2 other government forms of identification.**
- Following your Onboarding session we will begin to schedule appointments for both Airport badging and finalize your hiring applications. In addition we will schedule all of your PrimeFlight training. Once the scheduling dates/times are complete we will begin communicating this information to you, so please make sure we have a good phone contact for you.

Again, Welcome to the PrimeFlight Team!

Sir question.

These folks have applied with us, but are not on the list you sent over for active employees working in Terminal 5.

We have been sending away anyone that we identified as not working Jet Blue contract until after the start up.

Thanks,
 Matt

Matt,

Couple things to run by Lamont as I am confused:

This one says they are a Skycap with Airserv and even put that in the job history in OnBoarding, but they have them listed as a BAG:

Incumbent - Hayes-BAG	Cunningham	DUMonye	AirServ

Subject: Updated List of Airserv to PF Candidates

Afternoon Sir,

As promised here is the list of folks we are working towards transitioning. I believe we have caught and removed from the process, any Airserv staff not currently working for Jet Blue Terminal 5, but if you could check and confirm, that would be appreciated.

Also I sent you an invite to a meeting at the security badge office next Wednesday morning at 11:30AM. I hope you are able to attend, as it was recommended by the Port to ensure fewer headaches down the road for all involved.

Thanks,
Matt

My apologies on the delay in responding Lamont.

The process for badging and customs has taken some time to complete. That said we have been and will continue to tell all staff that they must attend our events during non-work periods.

We have set up a 6 day a week processing center which will allow time for employees to complete all necessary ppwk during their off hours.

My apologies on any operational challenges that have been caused.

Thanks

Subject: Disposition Forms

Morning Lamont,

I have encountered a number of employees who are confused regarding the receipt to the disposition forms they received from Air Serv. During our meeting with the Port Authority and Air Serv last month it was stated by Air Serv Admin in attendance that Airserv did not wish for employees transferring over to PF work any days prior to start up on the 9th with a PF only badge.

As a result of giving the employees these disposition forms prior to Monday there is the risk that employees could give this disposition form to badge office when they go to have PF added to their current badge.

Can you hold off on distributing any more until Monday? The deadline to have Air Serv removed from PF badge was set by the Port Authority as May 20th so there is plenty of time for both of us to get accomplished what is needed.

Don't want any issues for your staff this working the remaining 4 days if they only have PF on their badge.

Thanks,
Matt

Subject: PrimeFlight- Hiring Notice for PAX Assist Employees

Good Evening Ann and George,

Per our discussion the other day, I wanted to send over a communication letter for all PAX employees, who might choose to transition over to PrimeFlight, and continue to support Jet Blue Operations. I have taken an extra step to note in this communication that only employees not on shift will be processed at the planned hiring events next week for PAX employees. This is something I conveyed to you earlier this week, and I want to ensure that we do not create any challenges for your team during this transition.

I would very much appreciate you posting and circulating this notice to your staff. Doing so will ensure they understand the requirements of coming to these events on their time, and not yours. Word will certainly spread about next week's events, and as such if not properly communicated your operations could be impacted by employees choosing to leave, and or not show up for work; which nobody wants.

Should you have any questions or concerns please do not hesitate to reach out to me.

Matt

Subject: PrimeFlight Employment Opportunities and Important Information

Welcome to PrimeFlight! We look forward to you joining our team. Through the transition we will be available to answer your questions and concerns. In the interim, below are a few answers to important questions you may have, along with some next steps.

Your most important question will be: Will I have an opportunity to join PrimeFlight, and the answer is YES.

Additional answers to important questions:

- Health Insurance Benefits Available
- Paid Holidays/Vacations
- Promotions from within/career advancement opportunities
- Paid airport badging/fingerprinting

What you need to do and know to start the hiring process:

- As a first step, please apply on our portal at apply.primeflight.com. During the initial hiring event, we will be very happy to help you if you need assistance. Please bring two forms of ID to this event. All applicants will be drug screened.
- Exclusively for Pax Assist employees and starting next Wednesday 3/23/16 from 0900-1500, and continuing Thursday 3/24/16 and Friday 3/25/16 from 0900-1500, PrimeFlight staffing experts will be available to start your enrollment process, and answer your questions. (Please identify yourself as a Pax Assist Employee when you arrive)

Wednesday – Friday Event Location

- Event Location: Building 14 – 3rd floor Conference Room 3E
- Please bring with you a copy of your latest pay stub, Port Authority ID, and 2 other government forms of identification.**
- Please note dates and times of the events have been set up in order to not impact current operations for Jet Blue. Employees must only come to a hiring event before or after their current shift schedule, or on a day off. We will not process any employees who are scheduled to be working.

Again, Welcome to the PrimeFlight Team!

We have been screening folks the best we can to avoid this. Also regarding drug tests it clearly states on the form they are given, that they have 3 days to take the test. So nobody is required to go immediately today.

We will continue to advise people coming over of this.

Ann,

I certainly understand your concerns for the employees confidential info, however this is a standard industry request. Please see attached Federal employee law regarding "FMLA successor employer".

Typically when we ask employees for what their hire date was a lot of times they don't remember, or they recall it wrong (Sometimes by months). We can pull the customs info and telephone info from our interviews so not sharing that is okay, and we will work around it.

If you could please provide just the hire date, per Federal Law that would be appreciated. Ultimately this info is only being gathered for the benefit of the employees.

Thank you for your consideration.

Wage and Hour Division, Labor

§ 825.107

On the other hand, if in a particular fact situation, a PEO has the right to hire, fire, assign, or direct and control the client's employees, or benefits from the work that the employees perform, such rights may lead to a determination that the PEO would be a joint employer with the client employer, depending upon all the facts and circumstances.

(c) In joint employment relationships, only the primary employer is responsible for giving required notices to its employees, providing FMLA leave, and maintenance of health benefits. Factors considered in determining which is the "primary" employer include authority/responsibility to hire and fire, assign/place the employee, make payroll, and provide employment benefits. For employees of temporary placement agencies, for example, the placement agency most commonly would be the primary employer. Where a PEO is a joint employer, the client employer most commonly would be the primary employer.

(d) Employees jointly employed by two employers must be counted by both employers, whether or not maintained on one of the employer's payroll, in determining employer coverage and employee eligibility. For example, an employer who jointly employs 15 workers from a temporary placement agency and 40 permanent workers is covered by FMLA. (A special rule applies to employees jointly employed who physically work at a facility of the secondary employer for a period of at least one year. See § 825.111(a)(3).) An employee on leave who is working for a secondary employer is considered employed by the secondary employer, and must be counted for coverage and eligibility purposes, as long as the employer has a reasonable expectation that that employee will return to employment with that employer. In those cases in which a PEO is determined to be a joint employer of a client employer's employees, the client employer would only be required to count employees of the PEO (or employees of other clients of the PEO) if the client employer jointly employed those employees.

(e) Job restoration is the primary responsibility of the primary employer.

The secondary employer is responsible for accepting the employee returning from FMLA leave in place of the replacement employee if the secondary employer continues to utilize an employee from the temporary placement agency, and the agency chooses to place the employee with the secondary employer. A secondary employer is also responsible for compliance with the prohibited acts provisions with respect to its jointly employed employees, whether or not the secondary employer is covered by FMLA. See § 825.220(a). The prohibited acts include prohibitions against interfering with an employee's attempt to exercise rights under the Act, or discharging or discriminating against an employee for opposing a practice which is unlawful under FMLA. A covered secondary employer will be responsible for compliance with all the provisions of the FMLA with respect to its regular, permanent workforce.

§ 825.107 Successor in interest coverage.

(a) For purposes of FMLA, in determining whether an employer is covered because it is a "successor in interest" to a covered employer, the factors used under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act and the Vietnam Era Veterans' Adjustment Act will be considered. However, unlike Title VII, whether the successor has notice of the employee's claim is not a consideration. Notice may be relevant, however, in determining successor liability for violations of the predecessor. The factors to be considered include:

- (1) Substantial continuity of the same business operations;
- (2) Use of the same plant;
- (3) Continuity of the work force;
- (4) Similarity of jobs and working conditions;
- (5) Similarity of supervisory personnel;
- (6) Similarity in machinery, equipment, and production methods;
- (7) Similarity of products or services; and
- (8) The ability of the predecessor to provide relief.

(b) A determination of whether or not a "successor in interest" exists is not determined by the application of any single criterion, but rather the entire circumstances are to be viewed in their totality.

(c) When an employer is a "successor in interest," employees' entitlements are the same as if the employment by the predecessor and successor were continuous employment by a single employer. For example, the successor, whether or not it meets FMLA coverage criteria, must grant leave for eligible employees who had provided appropriate notice to the predecessor, or continue leave begun while employed by the predecessor, including maintenance of group health benefits during the leave and job restoration at the conclusion of the leave. A successor which meets FMLA's coverage criteria must count periods of employment and hours worked for the predecessor for purposes of determining employee eligibility for FMLA leave.

FMLA Coverage

When we take over a contract from another provider, employees' entitlements are the same as if it was continuous employment by single employer

Therefore, we need date of hire or rehire of continuous employees at the location.

Ann,

I certainly understand your concerns for the employees confidential info, however this is a standard industry request. Please see attached Federal employee law regarding "FMLA successor employer".

Typically when we ask employees for what their hire date was a lot of times they don't remember, or they recall it wrong (Sometimes by months). We can pull the customs info and telephone info from our interviews so not sharing that is okay, and we will work around it.

If you could please provide just the hire date, per Federal Law that would be appreciated. Ultimately this info is only being gathered for the benefit of the employees.

Thank you for your consideration.

Afternoon Ann,

We currently have over 130 PAX employees that are in various stages of our vetting process. At this time we do not have a list of who will ultimately be coming over to work for us. I should be able to provide something with more detail sometime in the next two weeks, as our process of vetting potential candidates concludes.

Thanks,

Afternoon Ann,

We currently have over 130 PAX employees that are in various stages of our vetting process. At this time we do not have a list of who will ultimately be coming over to work for us. I should be able to provide something with more detail sometime in the next two weeks, as our process of vetting potential candidates concludes.

Thanks,
Matt

Ann,

I certainly understand your concerns for the employees confidential info, however this is a standard industry request. Please see attached Federal employee law regarding "FMLA successor employer".

Typically when we ask employees for what their hire date was a lot of times they don't remember, or they recall it wrong (Sometimes by months). We can pull the customs info and telephone info from our interviews so not sharing that is okay, and we will work around it.

If you could please provide just the hire date, per Federal Law that would be appreciated. Ultimately this info is only being gathered for the benefit of the employees.

Thank you for your consideration.

Matt

Arbitration Agreement

Applicant Name: Stan Suan

Application Completion Date: 1/11/2016

Arbitration Agreement

Notice to all Applicants and Employees of PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc.

Individuals who wish to be considered for employment by PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc. ("the Company") must read and accept the terms of the following Dispute Resolution Agreement. If you desire to do so, you may stop the process at this point and take the time to review these materials further. You must, however, complete the online Agreement, along with your application, if you wish to continue the application process and if you wish to be employed by the Company. All persons who apply for employment with the Company after November 30, 2011, and those who become employed as a result of such application, are required to agree to the Dispute Resolution Agreement below.

Dispute Resolution Agreement

You and the Company recognize that differences may arise between you that cannot be resolved without the assistance of an outside party. Both you and the Company agree to resolve any and all claims, disputes or controversies arising out of or relating to your application for employment, your employment with the Company, and/or the termination of your employment exclusively by arbitration to be administered by a neutral dispute resolution agency agreed upon by the parties at the time of the dispute. If you and the Company cannot agree, the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") will administer the arbitration pursuant to its applicable Rules. Copies of AAA's Rules are available on AAA's website (www.adr.org). Some, but not all, of the types of claims covered are: unpaid wages, overtime, or other compensation; discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, sex, age, national origin, religion, disability or any other unlawful basis; breach of contract; unlawful retaliation; wrongful discharge; employment-related tort claims such as defamation; and claims arising under any statutes or regulations applicable to employees or applicable to the employment relationship, such as the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, or the Fair Labor Standards Act. Claims not covered are those claims seeking injunctive or declaratory relief due to allegations of unfair competition, unfair business practices, the unauthorized disclosure of trade secrets or confidential information, or the breach of covenants restricting the business activities of the Company or employees. This Agreement does not affect or limit Employee's right to file an administrative charge with a state or federal agency such as the National Labor Relations Board or the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and it does not cover claims relating to whistleblowers and/or unlawful retaliation arising under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. You and the Company agree that this Agreement shall be enforceable pursuant to and interpreted in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Arbitration Act.

The Arbitrator shall have the authority to award the same damages and other relief that would have been available in court pursuant to applicable law. The Arbitrator will have the authority to limit discovery and other pretrial processes to what is necessary for a prompt and inexpensive resolution of the dispute. Absent a showing of substantial need by either party or an inability to pursue or defend certain claims, the Arbitrator shall limit discovery to 25 interrogatories/document requests per party and to two depositions per party. It is expected that the arbitration hearing will be held within 180 days of the appointment of the Arbitrator. The AAA Rules will govern the allocation of costs between the parties and the course of the proceedings unless otherwise agreed. The Arbitrator shall not have the authority to add to, amend, or modify existing law or to alter the at-will status of the relationship between you and the Company. Because this Agreement is intended to resolve the particular dispute as quickly as possible, the Arbitrator shall not have the authority to consolidate the claims of other employees into a single proceeding, to fashion a proceeding as a class, collective action, or representative action, or to award relief to a class or group of employees. The Arbitrator shall have the authority to consider and rule on dispositive motions such as motions to dismiss or motions for summary judgment in accordance with the standards and burdens generally applicable to such motions in federal district court, except that the Arbitrator may establish appropriate and less formal standards and procedures for such motions at the Arbitrator's discretion consistent with the expedited nature of arbitration proceedings. The Arbitrator may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses at the arbitration hearing and to compel the production of documents during discovery and shall do so upon reasonable request of either party. The Arbitrator shall have the exclusive authority to resolve any dispute relating to the interpretation, applicability, enforceability, or formation of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, any claim that any part of this Agreement is unenforceable, void, or voidable.

For the purposes of the scope of the obligation to arbitrate, "Company" shall include PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc., and all subsidiary companies, related companies, trade names, and alleged joint employers, as well as their respective offices, directors, managers, and employees (current and former).

If any provisions of AAA's Rules or of this Agreement are determined by the Arbitrator or by any court of competent jurisdiction to be unlawful, invalid, or unenforceable, such provisions shall be severed or modified so that the Agreement may be enforced to the greatest extent permissible under the law. All remaining terms and provisions shall continue in full force and effect. This Agreement may be modified or terminated by the Company after thirty days written notice to you. Any modifications or terminations shall be prospective only and shall not apply to any claims or disputes that are pending in arbitration or that have been initiated by either party.

SPECIAL NOTE: This Agreement and the Rules referenced above are important documents that affect your legal rights. You should familiarize yourself with and understand them, and, accepting below, you acknowledge that you have had the opportunity to do so. You may wish to seek legal advice or to consult with private legal counsel before signing this Agreement.

By acknowledging and by accepting employment with the Company if it is offered, you agree to be bound to this Dispute Resolution Agreement, as does the Company. You understand that, as more fully set forth above, you must arbitrate any and all employment-related claims against the Company and that you may not file a lawsuit in court in regard to any claims or disputes covered by this Agreement.

Rick, apologies, after re-reviewing the sorted Attachment F, I found a slight error in the numbers that I sent to you earlier this afternoon. I've also added the numbers through July 6. Here's what I have:

	23-May-2016	Percentage	16-Jun-2016	Percentage	6-Jul-2016	Percentage
Total	362		441		507
AirServ	189	52.21%	197	44.67%
Non-AS	173	47.79%	244	55.33%
Wheelchair	174	48.07%	250	56.69%	309	60.95%
Non-wheelchair	188	51.93%	191	43.31%	198	39.05%

I've excluded anyone with a title of "supervisor" or "manager" or "dispatcher" (14 listed names, although 2 pairs appear to be duplicates) so that the numbers comport as closely as possible with everything that you've written so far. If you see anything that looks incorrect, please let me know.

Rick, I think I have what I need. Based on everything that you've given me, it appears that as of May 23, PrimeFlight employed 362 people, broken down as follows:

	23-May	Percentage
Total	362
AirServ	189	0.522099
Non-AS	173	0.477901
Wheelchair	174	0.480663
Non-wheelchair	188	0.519337

And as of June 16, PrimeFlight employed 440 people, broken down as follows:

	16-Jun	Percentage
Total	440
AirServ	197	0.447727
Non-AS	243	0.552273
Wheelchair	249	0.565909
Non-wheelchair	191	0.434091

At some point thereafter, PrimeFlight executed phase 3 hiring, and reached full employment at 500 employees. I don't have the break down for that figure because your client didn't keep track of the AirServ/non-AirServ distinction during phase 3.

If I have missed or misstated anything, please correct me. Thanks,

Brady

Brady,

Attached is the original Attachment F sorted by date of hire. Attachment K is the list of all hires from Air Serv thru June 15. It appears that we cannot merge the Air Serv list into Attachment F. It will need to be done manually.

In response to your question concerning the percentage of wheelchair attendants my understanding is that there were approximately 174 in that classification on or about May 23 which is approximately 50% of the total. At the end of the phase 2 hiring (between June 6 -15) there were about 249 wheelchair attendants making up approximately 56% of the total. The company has advised that it did not keep track of the source in the phase 3 hiring. I believe all of the data is in the attachments in some form or another but it will require some time to sort it all out. Please advise how you would like to proceed. I will be traveling this afternoon and tomorrow and back in the office on Monday.

Sincerely,
Rick

Rick, I appreciate you working with me to cover all these bases. I have another question about one aspect of your position statement. You wrote:

"While it is true that PrimeFlight provides similar services to JetBlue as provided by Air Serv, a substantial amount of the work now done by PrimeFlight for JetBlue includes wheelchair assistance, a service that Air Serv did not provide. Consequently, a substantial number of PrimeFlight employees (approximately 50%) are performing work not previously performed by Air Serv."

I assume that this 50% number refers to employees as of the date of the position statement. For purposes of a complete analysis, I'd also like your client's position on the percentage as of the date that the Union demanded recognition – May 23. Are you able to provide (1) that percentage, and (2) a list of employees as of May 23, including their job title and "source" (i.e. AirServ, PAX, new hire – I see that your client keeps track of this information in some of its documentation).

Perhaps the easiest way to provide such a list would be to use the list in Attachment F with two modifications: (1) add the source, and (2) provide the list in an excel spreadsheet, sorted by hire date, so that it is clear which employees were employed on May 23. Let me know what you think. Thanks again,

Brady

Brady,

If you look about 5 pages in on Attachment H there is an email from Matt Barry of PrimeFlight to Lamont Samuals of Air Serv dated March 17, 2016 asking him to post and distribute the attached recruiting notice. The notice should be attached to the email. If not I will provide you with a copy.

About 19 pages from the back of Attachment H you will see an email dated March 28, 2016 from George Harutunyan of Pax Assist to Matt Barry referencing posting and distributing a similar recruiting flyer. The attachment is not included but my understanding is that it states basically the same thing as the document distributed to Air Serv employees. The email supports that.

I hope this helps.

Rick – another follow up question for you. This one should be simple. Your position statement states, “In mid-March, PrimeFlight prepared a memorandum for distribution to all Air Serv and PAX Assist employees regarding employment opportunities with PrimeFlight and requested that management personnel from both predecessor companies distribute it to their respective employees.” Will your client provide this memo? Thank you.

Subject: RE: 29-CA-177992 PrimeFlight

Rick, I have quickly reviewed your submission. The following passage caught my eye:

"1) At the time PrimeFlight assumed the work for JetBlue, it had concrete plans to hire approximately 500 employees, 245 of which would be in the wheelchair assistant classification. (See Attachment J).

2) At the time of the Union's request for recognition on May 23, 2016, there were approximately 362 employees hired by PrimeFlight with approximately 189 hired from Air Serv. However, at that time, the job classifications were not substantially filled as evidenced by the fact that 78 more employees were hired just a few weeks later as part of the originally planned phase 2 hiring;

3) Consequently, within a matter of weeks the size of the complement increased substantially from 362 to 440. The number of predecessor employees increased by only 8 to 197 and the % of predecessor employees was not a majority of the workforce (44%) as of June 16, 2016. Attached is a list of the 197 predecessor employees hired by PrimeFlight as of June 16, 2016 (Attachment K); and

4) As originally planned, PrimeFlight immediately began phase 3 hiring and the size of the employee complement was increased by another 60 employees within a matter of just over two week. The overwhelming majority of jobs filled during phase 3 were in the wheelchair classification and few Air Serv employees were hired to fill those jobs."

Can you provide documents substantiating the "concrete plans" that PrimeFlight originally had to continue hiring after the Union's May 23 demand for recognition? For example, I'd be interested in seeing date-stamped internal e-mails describing phases 1, 2 and 3 of the company's hiring plans.

If you have already provided this type of documentation, please direct me attention towards it. So far, I have only skimmed your submission in its entirety, so I might have overlooked it. Thank you.

Confidential Witness Affidavit

I, Denzyl Prince, being first duly sworn upon my oath, state as follows:

I have been given assurances by an agent of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) that this Confidential Witness Affidavit will be considered a confidential law enforcement record by the NLRB and will not be disclosed unless it becomes necessary to produce this Confidential Witness Affidavit in connection with a formal proceeding.

I am employed by PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc.
located at JFK Airport, Terminal 5.

1. I began working in Terminal 5 at JFK Airport in or about April 2015. I was hired by a company called Air Serv. Since that time, I have always worked in Baggage Handling. The other services provided in the terminal are Wheelchair, Queue Line, and Skycap. When I was hired by Air Serv, I had to go through a day of training. The training was all about baggage: how to help customers, where to put bags, etc. My direct supervisors were named Crystal (she was Supervisor for both Baggage Handling and Wheelchair), Troy (he was Shift Manager for Baggage Handling only), and Karmal (he was Supervisor for both Baggage Handling and Wheelchair). Those three Supervisors worked different shifts, so that they did not work at the same time. Above my direct supervisors was Tony (last name unknown, his job title was Manager). My schedule was 11:00 AM to 7:00 PM, Friday through Tuesday (I didn't work Wednesday and Thursday). I got paid $10.10 per hour. My duties as a Baggage Handler were basically to move passengers' bags around. My precise duties depended on which area I was assigned to. Each day, when I clocked into work, the Supervisor on duty (usually either Crystal or Karmal) told me which area to report to: bag drop, bag room, or the floor. When I was assigned to bag drop, I worked in the area where JetBlue crew members check in passengers, and I took the checked bags and put them on the conveyor belt. When I was assigned to the bag room, I took oversized bags off the belt so TSA could check them, and also brought bags on a cart to the other end of the TSA room, when they were ready to be taken to the airplane (Baggage Handlers weren't allowed outside). When I was assigned to the floor, I worked in the area of the baggage carousel. When passengers came to the carousel after a flight, I helped the passengers to take their bags off the carousel. Then when all the passengers had picked up their bags, I cleaned the carousel and took the leftover bags to the baggage carousel office. In performing these duties, I sometimes used a cart to transport bags; other than that I didn't use any other equipment. I wore a uniform that was a dark navy blue shirt with a white stripe, that said "Air Serv," and black pants.

2. When Air Serv lost the Terminal 5 contract, I began working for another company called PrimeFlight. I started working for PrimeFlight on or about May 9, 2016. Before that date, I had to attend a day of training. There were two classes that I took in one day. The training was the same as the training I took when I was hired by Air Serv. I was able to keep the Port Authority ID that I had, but I had to Building 14 (on the JFK Airport grounds) to have "Air Serv" removed from the ID and "PrimeFlight" added to the ID.

3. I worked Air Serv's last day (May 8, 2016) and PrimeFlight's first day (May 9, 2016). I continued working in Baggage Handling. None of the terminal services stopped at that time. The job stayed the same with very minor changes: my hours, my pay, and my uniform changed slightly. I still work the same number of hours, but now, my hours are 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM, Saturday through Wednesday (I don't work on Thursday and Friday). Now, I get paid $10.50 per hour. My uniform is now grey t-shirt that says "PrimeFlight," and black pants.
4. On the day PrimeFlight took over, Supervisors Troy and Karmal still worked as Supervisors, but Supervisor Crystal and Manager Tony did not switch to PrimeFlight. Since then, Karmal quit. Today, I have a lot of supervisors, including Troy (Shift Manager for all job classifications, like before), Eon Walker (Baggage Supervisor and Wheelchair Lead), Leo (Baggage Supervisor and Wheelchair Lead), Pedro (Baggage Supervisor and Wheelchair Lead) and Josh (Baggage Supervisor and Wheelchair Lead). Eon and Leo used to work for Air Serv as Wheelchair Leads, and now they are Supervisors. Pedro used to work as a Wheelchair Agent for PAX Assist. Josh is new to Terminal 5; he began when PrimeFlight came in.
5. Under Primeflight, my basic duties in the bag drop, bag room, and floor areas are the same as they were under Air Serv. Under PrimeFlight, there is now a new area called Help Desk. When I'm assigned to Help Desk, customers come to that area, JetBlue crew members tag the bag and I put the bag on the conveyor belt. The job duties at the Help Desk are basically the same as the duties in the Bag Drop, but in a different area.
6. When PrimeFlight came in, I began doing Wheelchair work sometimes, when there are too many customers for the Wheelchair staff to do the work. I do the Wheelchair work when a

Case 29-CA-177992

Supervisor asks me to. The duties are to push the customer and their wheelchair through the entire airport process: I bring the customer to check in for their flight, bring the customer and their boarding pass through TSA, and then bring them to their gate. I see other Baggage Handlers and Line Queue staff doing Wheelchair work, too. I never see Skycap staff doing Wheelchair work. Before PrimeFlight took over, only Wheelchair Agents did Wheelchair work. Since PrimeFlight came, I see Wheelchair Agents doing Baggage D.P. Handling work.

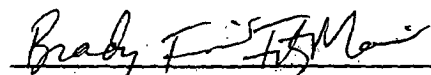

I am being provided a copy of this Confidential Witness Affidavit for my review. I understand that this affidavit is a confidential law enforcement record and should not be shown to any person other than my attorney or other person representing me in this proceeding.

I have read this Confidential Witness Affidavit consisting of 4 pages, including this page, I fully understand it, and I state under penalty of perjury that it is true and correct. However, if after reviewing this affidavit again, I remember anything else that is important or I wish to make any changes, I will immediately notify the Board agent.

Dear Sir or Madam:

PrimeFlight Aviation Services is the successor employer for two bargaining units represented by SEIU Local 32BJ. As such, PrimeFlight is legally obligated to recognize the union as the exclusive collective bargaining agent, bargain with us concerning terms and conditions of employment and to provide information necessary and relevant to collective bargaining. The two units are:

1. PrimeFlight's employees at JFK Airport, the majority of whom were formerly Air Serv employees represented by Local 32BJ. These are employees working at Terminal 5 on the Jet Blue account, providing baggage handling, skycap and check point services. As we understand it, the appropriate bargaining unit also includes employees providing wheelchair assistance. We request recognition for a unit of all full-time and regular part-time employees at Terminal 5 on the Jet Blue account, excluding supervisors, office clericals, and guards as defined in the NLRA.
2. PrimeFlight's employees at Newark Liberty Airport providing baggage handling, skycap and check point services at Terminal A for Jet Blue, a majority of whom are former Air Serv employees represented by Local 32BJ. We request recognition for a unit of all full-time and regular part-time employees at Terminal A on the Jet Blue account, excluding supervisors, office clericals, and guards as defined in the NLRA.

Please provide dates on which you are available to bargain.

Please provide us with the following information necessary and relevant to collective bargaining:

1. A roster of all bargaining unit employees, including their names, addresses, telephone numbers, e-mail addresses, wages, shifts, classifications and start dates.
2. A copy of any employee handbook applicable to any bargaining unit employee.
3. A copy of the summary plan description for any health insurance or other employee benefit plan applicable to any bargaining unit employee.

Dear Mr. Garren,

I have received a copy of the Recognition Agreement between Local 32BJ and Air Serv that was enclosed in your letter to me dated June 2, 2016. If there was an additional agreement between the parties that preceded the Recognition Agreement and stipulated the card check procedure referenced in the Recognition Agreement, please acknowledge and send me a copy.

Your letter was nonresponsive as to whether a Collective Bargaining Agreement exists for any of the employees. Please acknowledge whether one does.

The information we seek is relevant to your May 23, 2016 request for PrimeFlight to recognize Local 32BJ as the representative of certain units of our employees.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Stejskal:

We have supplied you with sufficient documentation to demonstrate that we represent the employees in the bargaining units at JFK and Newark airport in which the former Air Serv employees constitute a majority of PrimeFlight's non-supervisory workforce. After you acknowledge that the Union is the exclusive bargaining agent, we will be happy to provide any additional information which is necessary and relevant to collective bargaining. Please provide the authority that supports your claim that a collective bargaining agreement or documents preceding the recognition agreement are necessary to determine our representative status. Please note that that the recognition agreement cannot be legally challenged since it was entered into more than six months ago.

Very truly yours,

located at JFK Airport, Terminal 5.

1. None of my coworkers say anything to me about Local 32BJ SEIU ("the Union"). I think they are afraid to talk about the Union because the Union hasn't done anything to help them. I don't bother trying to talk about the Union with my coworkers because it's a waste of time. Whenever I try, my coworkers tell me that I'll get fired for talking about the Union.
2. Last week, one of the ^(line queue) leads (a woman named Latchmi) saw me talking to a Union representative (a man named Aaron) on the arrivals level in Terminal 5. Afterwards, on the departure level, Latchmi spoke to me alone. She said to me, don't let anyone see you talking to the Union or management could fire you. I won't stop talking to the Union because, unlike my coworkers, I'm not afraid of getting fired.

3. My coworkers and I feel frustrated with our jobs because there are rumors going around about the future of our jobs. One rumor going around is about working hours. My coworkers are saying that PrimeFlight is going to reduce our hours. I don't know how the rumor started, but all my co-workers are talking about it. I still work the same schedule as I always did: 10:30 AM to 6:30 PM. I don't know anyone who has had their hours reduced as yet. Another rumor is that PrimeFlight is going to lose the contract like Air Serv did, possibly in October. I don't know how this rumor started, either, but all my co-workers are talking about it.
4. I have thought about quitting because I have not been able to change my work schedule. I work five days a week. I have Thursday and Friday off but I would prefer to have Saturday and Sunday off. About two weeks ago, I asked one of my supervisors, Melinda, to change my days off. Melinda said that she would talk to a higher supervisor, Josh, to see if she could do it. However, she never got back to me.

5. I know that some people have quit because their schedules have been changed, and they can't accommodate the new schedule. I know of two people who have quit, but I don't know them by name. They were both wheelchair agents.

I am being provided a copy of this Confidential Witness Affidavit for my review. I understand that this affidavit is a confidential law enforcement record and should not be shown to any person other than my attorney or other person representing me in this proceeding.

My duties include picking up and dropping of passengers. I am paid $10.10 per hour. I work Sunday to Thursday, 3 am to 10am, sometimes until 11 am if it is particularly busy. I get paid around $1.25 to $1.50 more an hour for overtime. I do get medical insurance from the job. A company called AirServ was doing the work that Primeflight now does prior to mid-May 2016 I worked for AirServ around a year and a half before PrimeFlight took over the second week of May in 2016. I first worked for Alstate then for AirServ, then for PrimeFlight. I have not been disciplined by PrimeFlight before.
2. My supervisor is Eric ("LNU"). His duties include informing employees of incoming and outgoing flight times in order to have all wheelchair agents ready to help passengers with the wheelchairs. I've heard from other employees Eric sends people home when they do not listen, writes discipline reports, and telling wheelchair agents where to go. On busy days, Eric has the ability to make a Wheelchair Agent help the baggage workers; he does not need approval to make this changes. Eric never does the work of employees, such as Wheelchair Agents or dispatchers. He only tells individuals where to do. Eric, I believe, reports Matt ("LNU"), who is a higher rank management employee at PrimeFlight.

3. I first came into contact with Local 32BJ (the Union) when I worked for Alstate in Terminal 1 at JFK Airport. I worked for Alstate from November 5, 2010 until September 2013. During my employment at Alstate I got into an argument and physical altercation with a supervisor over the working condition of the time clock that employees use to punch in to work. The Union contacted me after this incident to question the working conditions of the facility, how am I being paid, etc. Prior to this I was not involved in any other Union activity. Currently, at PrimeFlight, I have been in contact with the Union about the working conditions at PrimeFlight. I have attended a few union meetings with employees that work at other airports or in other terminals at JFK Airport.
4. Early to middle of June 2016, I do not recall the exact day, I was just about to start work, around 2:55 am, and was in the dispatch office getting the materials needed to perform my job. Also, in the room were four female dispatchers, one female wheelchair agent, and two male wheelchair employees. I believe one female dispatcher's name was Jessica and the other female dispatcher I believe was Joan. I do not remember the names of the other employees. I do not know if they were beginning or ending their shift. Eric barged into the dispatch room and began talking about the Union. It was out of the ordinary for Eric to be in the dispatch room and I don't know what prompted him to barge in. Eric said, "We've only been here a couple of months, you don't need a union, be smart guys, you don't want to get fired." This comment was directed at all employees in the dispatch room. One female wheelchair agent (I do not recall her name) said "that's why I'm not joining the Union." I did not say anything after Eric made this comment. I then went to work. This incident lasted less than 5 minutes because we start our shifts at 3 am.

5. In June of 2016, I do not remember the exact day, the employees of both JetBlue and PrimeFlight had a march in the Terminal. I did not attend the march because I was afraid of getting fired from my job and was getting tired of the hassle.

7/27/2016

6. After the march was over, Union organizer Mike Cassidy contacted me to ask why I did not show up to the march. I told Mike why I did not attend the march and about the statements made by my Supervisor Eric. Mike told me that the Union was having a meeting that he wanted me to come to. I do not remember the date of the meeting but it was either July 1, 2 or 3rd, I remember it was before July 4th, 2016. I went to the meeting; I do not remember where it was held but it was in a church in Queens. The meeting was with workers from other airports. The workers spoke about the poor working conditions that they face in their day-to-day work. At this meeting Mike and I agreed to come to the NLRB to file a charge against the PrimeFlight for Eric's statement.

I am being provided a copy of this Confidential Witness Affidavit for my review. I understand that this affidavit is a confidential law enforcement record and should not be shown to any person other than my attorney or other person representing me in this proceeding.

I have read this Confidential Witness Affidavit consisting of 4 pages, including this page, I fully understand it, and I state under penalty of perjury that it is true and correct. Since PrimeFlight took over the terminal services in Terminal 5, I began working with PrimeFlight workers in all terminal services classifications: baggage handling, checkpoint services a/k/a line queue, skycap services, and wheelchair services.
2. I have spoken to PrimeFlight employees Asya Williams and Allison Halley about PrimeFlight refusing to recognize the Union even though PrimeFlight took over Air Serv's contract at JFK Airport's Terminal 5. Both Williams and Halley work in the line queue classification for PrimeFlight, and used to work for Air Serv.
3. Asya Williams told me that workers are fed up with the instability and confusion surrounding the contract flipping from Air Serv to PrimeFlight. Williams said that she doesn't want to work for an airport contractor anymore, and a lot of her coworkers feel the same way.

Williams said that workers feel panicked because the rumor is that PrimeFlight might lose the contract, and the contract might flip again. I specifically asked Williams to talk about how workers felt about the Union since the contract flipped. She said that workers' self-esteem is "shot to hell" and "it's like voting, if nothing changes, then why do it?" She also said that PrimeFlight made promises about things like hours and benefits, and then didn't follow through on those promises, so workers feel like PrimeFlight "bamboozled us and trapped us."

4. I also asked Williams if she knows of any employees who have quit the job since PrimeFlight took over the Terminal 5 contract. She said that her coworker, Charlene, had to quit because PrimeFlight couldn't accommodate her schedule. Williams said that she knows about ten people, in a mix of job classifications, who began working for PrimeFlight but then decided to quit.
5. As for her own situation, Williams said that she has been frustrated with how PrimeFlight has treated her. Specifically, Williams was not paid for working on May 9, 2016 (the first day that PrimeFlight began operations in Terminal 5), and didn't get her money until mid-July. Williams said that Air Serv was more responsive with things like that. In addition, Williams said that compared to Air Serv, PrimeFlight is "quick to tell you to hand in your ID," meaning to send you home for the day or fire you.
6. In the past two weeks, I have asked Asya Williams to come to the NLRB for the purpose of giving an affidavit. Williams has scheduled four appointments, but has not attended any appointment. Previously, Williams was a reliable supporter of the Union, as evidenced by her willingness to be an "Airport Contract Team Leader" (or "ACT! Leader"). On June 9, 2016, she signed a paper committing to being an "ACT! Leader."

7. Allison Halley said to me, people around me feel insecure because the contract keeps switching, and they want to leave the job. Allison said that she knows people who have been fired by PrimeFlight, and people who have quit the job.
8. Before PrimeFlight took over on May 9, 2016, Union Organizer Emerson Harris was the main Organizer working with Air Serv employees represented by the Union. Harris told me that, before PrimeFlight took over, ten to fifteen Air Serv employees had typically attended shift meetings throughout the day, meaning meetings organized by Harris at the beginning or end of shifts.
9. Before PrimeFlight took over on May 9, 2016, I mainly worked with employees of PAX Assist, some of whom now work for PrimeFlight. In about mid-February 2016, I organized an effort to deliver a Union petition to PAX Assist, which addressed issues in the workplace. About 30 employees participated in total: about 15 workers delivered the petition to PAX Assist's Human Resources department in Terminal 1, and about 15 workers delivered the petition to General Manager George Harutyunyan.
10. Since PrimeFlight took over the Terminal 5 contract on May 9, 2016 I have organized the following actions in an attempt to engage workers.
11. On or about June 1, 2016, I organized a Union rally at Terminal 5 at or around noon. It was about an hour long. The rally was meant to address primarily worker safety and health issues. We held signs and chanted. About 60 total airport workers attended. In advance of the rally, I asked about 25 PrimeFlight workers (including former Air Serv and former PAX Assist workers) to attend. I asked people who I know to be supporters of the Union. Of that group, 15 said they would come, and 7 actually came. (In addition to those 7, about 50 non-PrimeFlight workers attended). Of those 7, six had previously worked for PAX Assist, and one had been in the formerly represented unit at Air Serv. Other than Omar Duhaney (described below), I don't know why workers said that they would attend, but then didn't attend.

12. In particular, one worker named Omar Duhaney told me that he would attend the June 1, 2016 rally, but did not actually attend. Duhaney told me that he "decided to lay low" after his Supervisor, Eric Martinez, threatened him the morning of the rally. Eric threatened Duhaney and other employees with termination if they supported the Union. I have had a long relationship with Duhaney, stretching back two years, when he worked for another employer. When I first saw Duhaney in Terminal 5, he said, you know I'm with the Union, I'll do whatever you need. He is a long time Union supporter.
13. On or about July 11, 2016, I organized a "town hall" meeting for workers who work for Jet Blue contracts (including the Terminal 5 PrimeFlight workers, and others) at a Jewish Community Center in Jackson Heights, Queens. The meeting happened at about 6:00 PM. About 50 total airport workers attended. I asked about 30 PrimeFlight workers (including former Air Serv and former PAX Assist workers) to attend. I asked people who I know to be supporters of the Union. Of that group, 15 said they would come, and only two actually came. Of those two, one was in the formerly represented unit at Air Serv, and the other (Omar Duhaney) hadn't worked for either Air Serv or PAX in Terminal 5. I don't know why workers said that they would attend, but then didn't attend.
14. Rajkumari Maharaj used to work for PAX Assist as a wheelchair agent, and now works for PrimeFlight as a wheelchair agent. Previously, Maharaj was a Union supporter. She went on an unfair labor practice strike for one day with the Union on or about March 31, 2016. Since PrimeFlight took over, she has not cooperated in supporting the Union. For example, yesterday, I asked her to sign a petition directed at PrimeFlight. The petition states, "we sign below because we are uniting with PrimeFlight workers at LaGuardia, Newark, and JFK. We are dedicated to our jobs and the passengers we serve. We believe we deserve better from Primeflight. We work hard but stil don't make enough to support our families and live comfortably in the cities where we work. We are, too often, treated unfairly or with disrespect by our managers/supervisors. We want our knowledge and dedication to be recognized and to be sure that our jobs are protected and secure. Thousands of other airport workers have a seat at the table – we deserve our seat at the table too." The petition shows the Union's logo in the top left and top right corners. Maharaj refused to sign, and said, the company is losing the contract, the contract is switching every five or six months. I understood her to mean that signing the petition would be pointless.

15. Joan Pilgrim used to work for PAX Assist as a wheelchair agent, and now works for PrimeFlight as a wheelchair agent. Pilgrim walked off the job alone during the strike on or about March 31, 2016, because she was the first to report to work that day. It is very unusual for a worker to be willing to walk off the job without the support of her coworkers. For this reason, I considered Pilgrim to be a major Union supporter. About two weeks ago, I asked Pilgrim to sign the same petition that I asked Maharaj to sign. Pilgrim said that she was not interested in signing.

16. Yasmine Smith and Hemwantie "Sara" Sarabdial used to work for PAX Assist as wheelchair agents, and now work for PrimeFlight as wheelchair agents. Smith and Sarabdial were both supportive of the Union before PrimeFlight took over. For example, in January or February 2016, I held two meetings at the Union's Queens office for airport workers. On those two occasions, Smith and Sarabdial were instrumental in gathering a group of about ten of their coworkers, and making sure that the group got on a bus that the Union arranged to have employees driven from JFK Airport to the Union office. In addition, in or about mid-February 2016, Smith and Sarabdial both signed a Union petition directed at PAX Assist. Smith and Sarabdial also successfully asked some of their coworkers to sign the petition. After PrimeFlight took over, both Smith and Sarabdial told me that they no longer want to be involved with the Union.

I am being provided a copy of this Confidential Witness Affidavit for my review. I understand that this affidavit is a confidential law enforcement record and should not be shown to any person other than my attorney or other person representing me in this proceeding.

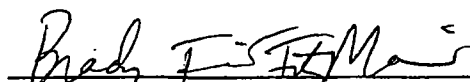

I have read this Confidential Witness Affidavit consisting of 6 pages, including this page, I fully understand it, and I state under penalty of perjury that it is true and correct. Re: PrimeFlight Aviation Services, Inc.
Case No. 29-CA-177992

Dear Mr. Francisco-FitzMaurice:

I am in receipt of your email dated July 15, 2016, requesting additional documentation regarding PrimeFlight's plans to continue hiring after the Union's May 23, 2016, demand for recognition.

As indicated in my letter dated July 15, 2016, the Phase I hiring was completed on or about May 9, 2016, the date PrimeFlight began operations. However, it became clear within about a week that PrimeFlight was significantly understaffed and needed to move up plans for additional hiring.

On May 18, 2016, Division Vice President Matt Barry, who has overall responsibility for PrimeFlight's JetBlue operation at JFK, sent an email to the PrimeFlight Team that was working on ramping up operations at JFK. (Attachment A). His email emphasized the need to prioritize the recruiting and training of additional employees. Immediately thereafter, David Montemarno, Director of Operations for PrimeFlight's LaGuardia Operations, sent out an email to the Team indicating the need to start adding employees the next day. (See Attachment A). Earlier that same day, Mr. Barry had sent an internal email confirming that rental equipment (computers) used in the recruitment and hiring of employees at JFK be extended for another month. (Attachment B).

In an early morning exchange of emails the next day, Thursday, May 19, 2016, Matt Barry, advised Corporate Management of the need to hire at least 50 additional employees "right away." (Attachment C). As part of the string of emails in the attachment, he advises that David Montemarno will be temporarily reassigned to work at JFK to assist with the ramp up in hiring.

Brady Francisco-FitzMaurice, Esq.
July 20, 2016

Ogletree
Deakins

Although dated after the May 23, 2016, Union demand for recognition, there are several emails which demonstrate that the Team continued to ramp up the hiring on a priority basis. For example, on the afternoon of June 2, 2016, Matt Barry received an email and chart updating him on the status of the hiring at JFK and the chart indicating a hiring target of 149 as of that date. (Attachment D). Matt Barry responded to the email a few minutes later advising that the “target for total is 250.” (See Attachment D). There was an exchange of emails the next day advising of the need to ramp up the hiring team and an update on the status of hiring reflecting the 250 figure. (Attachment E). There was another email exchange dated June 8, 2016, with the hiring status chart indicating the JFK hiring target was still at 250. (Attachment F).

Finally, on July 5, 2016, after receiving an internal email which included a list of 70+ employees who were in the “onboarding” and hiring process, Matt Barry responded “Let’s get these folks rolling and working.” (Attachment G). This is evidence that a substantial amount of hiring continued well after the Union did not have majority status.

While these documents do not pre-date the PrimeFlight startup on May 9, they provide evidence that the hiring was essentially completed in three phases by July 16. As indicated previously, the Company was never made aware that Air Serv had signed a recognition agreement with the Charging Party until a demand was made by the Union. Moreover, there is no evidence whatsoever that PrimeFlight’s hiring between early April and July 16, was in anyway related to or affected by the Union’s demand for recognition. The timing of the hiring was done for legitimate, business reasons unrelated to the issue of successorship.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Richard R. Parker

Next 10 days focus

1. Safety (who's giving daily safety briefings)
2. Schedules
3. badging status of every employee
4. payroll
5. tip-sheets
6. recruiting /training heavily (authorized to add another admin position full time if needed)

If we focus on doing these 6 things well in the next 10 days, we will see positive results.

I don't think so. David what are your thoughts?

Where are these? Still at JFK?

Hello Phillip. One of your rentals is due to bill. Would you like to extend? Attached is the invoice for 05/16-06/16. Let me know ASAP.

Thanks!

Will be working with him on that more today. But likely we will need to hire an additional 50 at least right away.

I'm that range could be slightly higher considering line queue and WHL additions we need.

Will have the O.T figures later today. A healthy amount for sure this week.

What is the bogie? We need about 350 shifts/day or something like that?
How much have/do we cover with OT daily? Just estimate

5 clearances yesterday. Only 8 total this week.

Roughly 254 have picked up.

I wanted you both to be aware that David will be working in JFK on an interim basis.

Need your help to ensure LGA stays focused on delivering for our customers!!

I know this is no small task, but am also extremely confident that you are both capable of achieving this.

David will continue to manage LGA, while on TDY for all customer issues and incident reports, etc.

I will also be close by at JFK. Please reach out to me anytime, for questions or support.

Thanks
